GREAT BATTLE FOR CONGRESS BY DEMOCRATS

Class Is to Be Arrayed Against Class and Principles Ignored.

PROGRAM IS SIMPLE

Non-Partisan Sentiment in Local Campaigns Expected to Bear National Fruit.

UNREST ABROAD IN THE LAND

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—With the reorganization of the campaign committees both the great political parties are lining up for the battle this fall for control of the house of representatives. It is admitted on every hand, that this fight will be a fiercely contested one. The Republicans, with a clear majority of 112 members in this congress, feel sure of retaining control of the house, and yet they realize that to do so they must fight. The Democrats are bracing themselves for a supreme effort, and they will leave nothing undone that might contribute to a Democratic victory. They scent something in the political atmosphere that gives them encouragement, they have derived hope from the results in Ohio and Pennsylvania last year when the regular Republican tickets in both states was somewhat damaged, and they have reached the conclusion that if ever they are to have a chance to get possession of the government, now is the time.

The Democratic program is simplicity itself. It is all mapped out for several years in the future. First, they are to get control of the house. That is the initial and the most important step. Then, with the house at their command, they propose to tear up the tariff, appoint investigating committees to probe into every branch of the government, hold up the Panama canal project and make trouble generally. Then in 1908 they will go before the people as the exponents of reform, the advance guard of economy and political purity and elect their president. The Hon. Champ Clark of Missouri outlined the entire plan on the floor of the house recently, so that it is no secret. All that is needed to carry it to fruition is enough votes.

Do Not Regard it as Joke.

The most hopeful sign from a Republican standpoint is that the Republican leaders do not look upon the Democratic program as a joke. They realize that there is a spirit of unrest abroad in the land, that prosperity, in a national sense as with the individual, often breeds discontent and uneasiness; that, in fact, the country has reached one of those periods through which it has passed before, when it is impossible to gauge political sentiment correctly or measure party strength with the usual degree of accuracy. There is a microbe in the atmosphere, a bacillus as minute and yet as infectious as the germs that science recognizes, and which manifests itself in many ways, but principally by arraying the infected one "against the government." Under what party that government may be administered, or the personality of the leaders, is not a matter of moment to one who gets this germ into his system. He merely wants to strike at the existing order of things, and kick over something. He is not particular as to who or what.

To meet this recognized sentiment in various parts of the country, the Republicans propose to go direct to the people on their record and argue the case on its merits. They have no apologies to make. Every pledge made by the party in national convention has been kept. Graft and corruption wherever found have been rooted out and corrected. The affairs of the government have been economically and effectively administered. And through it all the country has witnessed the most prosperous days of its history. This is the argument that the Republican members of congress will present to their constituents this fall, and they are willing to stand or fall with the verdict.

Reduction is Expected.

That there will be a reduction of the Republican majority no one doubts. This congress was elected on the great popular wave of Roosevelitism which carried into office many members who ran in doubtful districts, and districts where for years no Republican had had a chance. It is not expected that all of these will be returned. In the Fifty-eighth congress the Republicans had a majority of 36 in the house, and they found that that was sufficient margin for all practical purposes, and enabled them to transact the public business with dispatch. When it became known that in this congress the Republicans had made a gain of 76 members and that the majority would be 112, it was predicted that such a preponderance would be unwieldy and that Speaker Cannon would find it difficult to hold this party in line. There would not be enough committee places to go around, it was said, and there would be such scant honors and such poor picking in the way of appropriations, that the new members would be inclined to rebel.

But this prediction has proved a wild one. Two insurrections have broken out in the house during this session, but they

Repudiates Debts of Handsome Wife

MRS. JAMES BOOTHBY BURKE-ROCHE.

FATAL LIKENESS CAUSES MURDER IN OLD CHURCH

Daniel Magala's Resemblance to Nicholas Brogdon Makes Him Target for Two Bullets.

It was Daniel Magala's striking likeness to Nicholas Brogdon which led to his murder in Natrona Saturday night. Michael Uric, who fired two shots into Magala's heart, thought he was drawing a bead on Brogdon, with whom he had had a fight but a short time before. Magala and Uric were cousins and between them the best of friendship prevailed. County detectives yesterday went to Verona and arrested about 20 of the Slavs who occupied the rooms in which the trouble started. Later all were released but Uric, Brogdon and four others, who are held as witnesses.

The men worked in the Natrona foundry and all lived together in a big house which had been a church. There were two proprietors, Uric and Brogdon, a partition dividing their quarters. The two proprietors had a heated argument Saturday night as to the relative superiority of their rooms. Inasmuch as Uric's quarters had once formed the auditorium of a church he claimed it surpassed in importance that of his neighbor. Brogdon was contemptuous, and in order to showed it kicked over a table which was standing at a spot formerly occupied by the altar. Then he went to his own room, Uric following.

The men fought and Uric was badly beaten. He went home, secured a revolver and waited. Magala and Stanovich Vasile left Brogdon's room together. Uric mistook Magala for his enemy and fired twice, both shots taking effect in Magala's heart.

AUTOMOBILES KILL AND MAIM.

Elderly Woman and a Boy Meet Death and Another Woman Is Seriously Injured.

NEW YORK, April 1.—(Special.)—Two people were killed and one probably fatally injured in automobile accidents in and near New York today. One of those meeting death was Frederick Culleman, the six-year-old son of William Culleman, assistant treasurer of the Metropolitan opera house. He was struck by an automobile in West Sixty-fourth street.

The second victim was Mrs. Alvina Stein of St. Louis. Mrs. Stein, with her sister, Mrs. George J. Kuchler, a resident of New Rochelle, were walking in a roadway at that village and did not hear the approach of an automobile which struck them. They were both hurled against a stone abutment of a railroad bridge. Mrs. Stein died in a hospital a few hours later.

TWO MEN CHEAT DEATH IN RACE THROUGH TUNNEL

A Third Loses His Life Beneath Train Wheels After a Mad Run for Safety.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

IRWIN, PA., April 1.—In the single track tunnel of the Youghiogheny branch two miles south of here three men with a train close behind them, raced against death last night. By a margin of scarcely 10 feet two saved their lives. The other was killed.

John Buracks, William Barton and Joseph Zilger, all miners employed at Rilton, were returning home from Irwin by way of the railroad.

They had entered the tunnel but a short distance, with Buracks in the lead, when they heard a train approaching from the other end of the tunnel. They turned and ran for the opening. Barton and Zilger reached it just in time to escape being struck.

After the train had passed they re-entered the tunnel and close to the entrance found Buracks' body, cut to pieces by the wheels.

KIND ACT BEING REPAID.

Philadelphia Woman Befriends Daughter of People Who Gave Her a Home.

WOOSTER, O., April 1.—(Special.)—A kind act performed by the parents of Margaret Mueller in Germany has borne fruit after more than 60 years. Miss Mueller, who is now 80 years old, traveled throughout the world in her younger days as a musician. She has been in indigent circumstances here for a long time. An annuity that will make her remaining years comfortable has just been settled upon her.

Miss Mueller's parents were wealthy and once befriended a little girl, who is now rich and living in Philadelphia. This woman has come to the aid of the daughter of the people who gave her a home when she was without friends. Those who know the name of the Philadelphia woman refuse to reveal it, saying that it is in accordance with her wish.

K." in his hat, were found by Officer Fehr this morning. Forty dollars were found in a pocket of the dead man's clothes.

Observing the fragments of a body along the tracks the trainmen on a passing freight wrote a note and tossed it to Officer Fehr as they passed him, telling him what they had seen.

INDEPENDENTS IN LINE WITH F. L. ROBBINS

Many Operators at Meeting Today Will Agree to Sign 1903 Scale.

SOME CLOSE DOWN

Pittsburgh Coal Company Contract With Miners Made Today. Anthracite Shutdown.

GOOD ORDER IN ALL FIELDS

Following the lead of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, which today will sign a two-year agreement with representatives of the Pittsburgh district of United Mine Workers of America, restoring the wage rate of 1903, it is highly probable that the independent operators will grant the same concession.

A prominent independent operator stated to The Gazette last night that he was confident this would be the result of the meeting which is to be held tonight or tomorrow night. Between 25 and 30 independent operators are expected to be present. While some of them are in favor of holding out against an increase or the granting of any concessions whatever, many of the more conservative say they are willing to make the same concessions that the Pittsburgh Coal Company has. The conservative element is said to be in the majority and will, it is expected, be able to make the others see the wisdom of making a settlement on the basis of the 1903 scale. The independent mines have shut down pending a settlement, but it is not thought they will remain long in idleness.

To Sign Scale Today.

The meeting between Francis L. Robbins of the Pittsburgh Coal Company and William Little, William Dodds, James Clark and Frank Feehan, the scale committee of the United Mine Workers, to sign the agreement, will be held today. It is claimed that the committee has full authority from the Indianapolis convention to sign with operators willing to pay the scale of 1903. The validity of such an agreement, however, is questioned by Patrick Dolan who stated last night that he as president of the organization, Secretary Dodds, and a member designated by the national body, are the ones who have authority to act. He said they comprise the executive board of the district mine workers and are the only ones authorized to act in a matter of this nature.

Although today is a holiday for the miners, in celebration of the anniversary of the granting of the eight-hour day, the convention of district No. 5, U. M. W. A., will resume at 9:30 this morning in Moorhead hall.

In the bituminous regions there wil

Jasper Lawman.

DEATH CLOSES THE CAREER OF FAMOUS ARTIST

Jasper Lawman, Pittsburgh's Celebrated Portrait Painter Passes Away.

Jasper Holman Lawman, one of the most celebrated portrait painters of Pennsylvania, died at his home, 625 North Negley avenue, East End, at 5:40 a. m. yesterday, after a short illness.

Mr. Lawman was born in Xenia, O., April 2, 1824, and his career was a picturesque one. When he was a lad of 17 living in Cincinnati, he made a sketch of a river steamboat which attracted wide attention. A number of rivermen of that city determined the youth should be sent abroad to study his art, and offered to bear the expense of the trip. The offer was refused, and Mr. Lawman later came to Pittsburgh, where he found a kind friend in "Gen. Porter," owner and manager of the old Drury theater in Fifth avenue. For a number of years Mr. Lawman painted scenery for the classical dramas produced in the Drury theater. This gave him invaluable experience and was of great help to him in his later work.

In the early '50s Mr. Lawman went to Paris and Italy, where he studied portrait painting. His progress in Italy and the French capital was rapid, and it was not long before his work attracted the attention of the noted artists of those countries. After studying there several years, he was ready to come back to Pittsburgh, being already noted as a portrait painter of distinction. After returning to this city Mr. Lawman sent a number of his pictures to the American exhibition in London, where only leading American artists were invited to display their work. He also exhibited his pictures at the Paris exhibition, in the Academy of Fine Arts in New York and Philadelphia and at the World's fair in St. Louis. One of Mr. Lawman's pictures which was given a prize at the London

ONE IS DEAD; THREE DYING; ALL FOR BEER

Bloody Battle Between Miners in the Woods Near Twilight.

THROW MAN ON FIRE

Four Are Shot, Louis Williams Falling Dead While the Fight Is Raging.

PURSUING ONLY ONE UNHURT

Just at dusk in the village of Twilight, near Charleroi, seven miners got into a fight about a campfire in the woods. One is dead, three are fatally injured, one badly stabbed and another seriously burned. William Hodge, the man who, it is alleged, did the shooting which will result in three of the four deaths, was the only member of the party unhurt, and he escaped.

THE DEAD:

LOUIS WILLIAMS, aged 40, shot through the head.

THE WOUNDED:

J. F. SCHEIDER, aged 33, shot through the abdomen and sent to the West Penn hospital; will die.

OSCAR SCHEIDER, aged 37, shot through the abdomen and sent to the West Penn hospital; will die.

JOSEPH YOUNGHILLER, aged 45, shot through the abdomen; taken to Charleroi; will die.

MICHAEL SULLIVAN, aged 34, cut across the face and abdomen; taken to Charleroi; condition serious.

WILLIAM ANDERSON, aged 40, fell on the bonfire during the fight and seriously burned; under arrest at Charleroi.

Fought Over Beer.

The men had been drinking about a campfire. They had disposed of one keg of beer, which had been bought by Williams and the Scheiders. These than demanded that Younghiller, Sullivan, Hodge and Anderson buy a keg. The latter refused and a general fight resulted. Williams opened hostilities by throwing Anderson on the campfire. Anderson's clothing caught fire and he was pulled off the fire by Hodge and Sullivan. Williams and the Scheiders renewed the fight. Williams cut Sullivan with a knife, and started for Hodge. The latter drew a revolver and opened up on the Scheiders and Williams. The first shot struck Williams in the forehead, killing him instantly.

Armed with clubs the Scheiders went at Hodge. He fired on them and both were wounded in the abdomen. Younghiller rushed at Oscar Scheider just as he was shot, and Hodge, who had his revolver pointed at Scheider for a second shot, fired just as Younghiller dashed in front of him and the bullet entered Younghiller's abdomen. Younghiller fell to the ground. Hodge was the only man standing after the fray.

Scene of Slaughter.

Williams was dead, the Scheiders and Younghiller were lying on the ground groaning, Sullivan was helpless and bleeding from his knife wounds and Anderson was lying on his abdomen, helpless from the burns he received by being thrown on the campfire.

A farmer passing in a carriage heard the shooting and the shouts of the fighters, and reported the affray to the constable at Twilight, who notified the police at Charleroi. About 6 o'clock the police arrived and sent the wounded men to the Charleroi station house. Hodge had fled and the officers took up his trail through the woods. At a late hour last night he had not been captured. The Scheiders were put on a train at 9 o'clock last night and sent to the West Penn hospital. Anderson is being held as a prisoner at Charleroi. Hodge formerly lived at Woods Run.

ONE WOMAN MAKES GIFT OF $40,000, RAISING $200,000 IN SINGLE DAY

Sixth United Presbyterian Congregation Contributes Vast Sum Toward the Church Semi-Centennial Fund—Tribute to Retiring Pastor.

By raising nearly $200,000 in one day for the semi-centennial fund of the United Presbyterian church, May 28 to June 6, 1903, the congregation of the Sixth church, North Highland avenue, not only established a new high record for a single day's contribution, but also paid a remarkable tribute to their pastor, the Rev. Dr. Robert M'Whatty Russell, who retires to accept the presidency of Westminster college. Of this vast sum, $197,037.59 was pledged at the morning service, and with it came the promise on the part of several members, who have already contributed heavily, to duplicate any additional amount up to $50,000. At the evening service, $1,122.60 was added, and this is the start of the sum which, if secured, will be duplicated. The total for the day was thus brought up to $199,222, and before the subscription papers close it is expected to bring the total up to at least the $275,000 and possibly to the $300,000 mark.

It was stated that one woman member of the congregation gave a single contribution of $40,000, and several other members gave $10,000 each. The $40,000 contributor is said to be Mrs. J. R. McCune, a daughter of the late Charles Lockhart. During his lifetime Mr. Lockhart always had the welfare of the Sixth church closely at heart, and he gave liberally when the present magnificent church home was built.

Dr. Russell's pastorate of fifteen and a half years at the Sixth church has been successful to a remarkable degree. He will be tendered a farewell reception at the church this evening by the members of his congregation, and leaves tomorrow for Mercer, where his family will spend the summer. He will be inaugurated as president of Westminster college in June. Vast improvements are planned for the institution under his presidency, and among the new buildings which will be erected will be one built by the Sixth church, to be known as the administration building.

TILLMAN IS OPPOSED.

South Carolina Senator Says Few Democrats Will Support President's Rate Amendment.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Senator Tillman, who has charge of the railway rate bill in the senate, said tonight that he was not satisfied with the court review amendment to the measure, which was agreed on yesterday at a conference between President Roosevelt, several Republican senators supporting the bill, and members of the interstate commerce commission.

Tillman said he would oppose it on the floor of the senate and expressed the opinion that not half a dozen of his Democratic colleagues would support the amendment.

BLOOD POISON IS CAUSE OF CHILD'S QUICK DEATH

But Physician Hints at Vaccination as Being the Indirect Reason in Report to Coroner.

"Cause of death points to blood poison, following vaccination."

This is what Dr. B. L. Adler said in his report to the coroner on the death of Beatrice Bonsonville, aged 6½ years, who lived with her parents at 208 Carey alley, South Side, who died yesterday.

Mrs. Anna Bonsonville, the child's mother, told Deputy Coroner R. J. Hazlett, who investigated the case, that the child had been vaccinated on February 28 by a Dr. Hapgood. She says that about a week later the arm began to swell, and the doctor prescribed for her. This apparently worked a cure, but on Saturday last the child became very sick, had pains about her arm and heart and vomited. The parents thought she had a cold and put her to bed. She became so much worse yesterday morning that Drs. W. H. Weber and Adler were summoned, but when they reached the house the child was dead.

His assailant struck at him with a loaded cane, but Father John dodged the blow, which smashed the cup. The man was arrested. The penalty for violation of the sacrament in Russia is death.

EXAMINER MOXEY ILL AT LINCOLN

Most Potent Factor in Enterprise Case in Serious Condition from Overwork.

ASSISTANT AT HIS BEDSIDE

United States Bank Examiner Edward P. Moxey, chief witness in the prosecution of officials involved in the Enterprise National Bank wreck, is seriously ill with stomach trouble at his apartments in the Lincoln hotel. Mr. Moxey's illness is complicated by the effect of overwork, a condition brought on by tireless work during the last five months, and is said to be serious, although he has not given up hope of being able to appear at the preliminary examination of George L. Ralston on Tuesday morning. By advice of his physician, he will not appear at the trial of Forest A. Andrews this morning, but all the necessary evidence will be handled by his assistant, Bank Examiner Kimball.

The famous government ferret's condition is not minimized by the government officials associated in the prosecution, and Assistant Kimball has been at his bedside making notes of the vast fund of evidence that Moxey has collected, a great deal of which is unrecorded. If matters should take a mortal turn these records would perish with him. Since last Friday night Mr. Kimball has been constantly at Mr. Moxey's beside, making copious notes and preparing for any contingency.

Mr. Moxey could not be seen last night, as he had fallen into a quiet slumber. Mr. Kimball reported that the bank examiner's condition had improved during the day, and his physician's report augured steady improvement.

"Edward P. Moxey is a sick man," said United States District Attorney John W. Dunkle last night, "but his presence is not immediately necessary in the bank cases until Tuesday, when he is a necessity in the examination of George L. Ralston. Naturally, we are watching his condition with solicitude, because his death or serious illness would be a distinct setback. I understand that he is on the mead, and if you know what Moxey is you will surely know that he will be 'in at the death.'"

PROPERTY IS MENACED BY GREAT LANDSLIDES

Recent Rains Loosen Acres of Hillside Land Which Threaten Damage to Railway Routes.

Recent rains have loosened acres of hillside land in the borough of Glassport, and officials of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad and of the Pittsburgh Railways Company have large gangs of men ready to remove the tons of earth that are expected to cover their property at any moment. Apprehension is felt that the slide may occur while cars or trains are passing, and they are running through the borough with great caution.

At Pollock station, where the railroad company is constructing new tracks and making other improvements, an acre of ground is expected to slide at any moment. The ground is full of springs, which add to the danger. Dirt in small quantities has been falling on the railway tracks for several days, and men have been kept busy removing it.

BAER MEETS JUDGE GRAY.

Denial Made of a Report That They Conferred on the Anthracite Situation.

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—It was learned here tonight that Judge George Gray, president of the anthracite strike commission, and President Baer of the Reading company met Saturday night at the home in Wilmington, Dels., of Col. H. A. Dupont, the powder manufacturer. The meeting, coming at this time, naturally gave rise to rumors that it had something to do with the present crisis in labor troubles in the anthracite region, but this was positively denied from all sources.

It can be stated authoritatively that it would only be with the greatest difficulty that Judge Gray could again be brought into any arbitration plan. He has frequently said in the past year that nothing but the most imperative demand would induce him to attempt with others to settle another strike involving such features as those presented by the hard coal situation.

Ira McJunkin is leading with a majority of 800 over the Rev. Dight.

DOWIE'S ENEMIES TRIUMPH IN ZION

First Apostle Is Repudiated by Wife, Son and Former Followers.

THEY DECLARE HIM INSANE

CHICAGO, April 1.—John Alexander Dowie was formally and emphatically repudiated by the people of Zion this afternoon after the most stirring meeting ever held in the city he founded.

Overseer Voliva, recently appointed as deputy overseer, publicly cast off Dowie and Dowieism and received the unanimous support of all of the former followers of the first apostle. Dowie was openly denounced by practically all of the officials of the church as having deceived and defrauded the people and as having shamefully wasted their money in extravangance.

Jane Alexander Dowie, wife of the self-styled Elijah, repudiated her husband and in stirring language told that she had been wronged and abused by her husband.

By John G. Speicher, the former overseer and second in command to Dowie, who was recently peremptorily deposed, Dowie was declared insane, and Mrs. Dowie in her address upheld the declaration.

Gladstone Dowie has cast his lot with his mother and Voliva and Zion, and not one in the vast congregation failed to rise and pledge himself on the side of the new leader when Voliva called for a rising vote as to which they would follow, himself or Dowie.

Dowie had ordered that Overseer Gardner, one of the men in authority in Zion City be peremptorily dismissed from his place. Not only was this order ignored by Vice General Overseer Voliva but this young man who is now at the head of affairs in Zion City by appointment of Dowie, called Deacon Speicher to the platform this afternoon and in the presence of the 6,000 memebrs of the congregation who had assembled in Shiloh Tabernacle, announced that Speicher, discharged in disgrace by Dowie a few weeks ago, was reinstated. This announcement was received by round after round of cheers. Dowie's order for the dismissal of Overseer Gardner came in the form of a cablegram from Mexico City. Voliva, his associate overseers and deacons in executive session, decided to disregard this order and also to reinstate Deacon Speicher.

FINE APRIL WEATHER DRAWS MANY TO PARKS

Arrangements Going Forward for Easter Flower Show, Which Promises to Be Very Fine.

For the first day of the new month and All Fool's day at that, the quality of the weather furnished yesterday was exceptional fine and that it was enjoyed to the utmost was shown by the unexpectedly large crowds which invaded both Schenley and Highland parks. From early in the morning until late in the afternoon, the visitors kept coming in a steady stream, and not for many days, say the park policemen, has the attendance been so heavy.

And it was an "out-door" crowd, too, for while the Phipps conservatory and the art gallery were visited by many, the majority of the pleasure-seekers remained as much as possible in the bright sunshine. A brisk breeze, with just the faintest suggestion of winter lingering in it, added zest and made the day all the more enjoyable.

A bit of excitement was caused about 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon by a runaway, just beyond Schenley park bridge. A driverless horse, hitched to a buggy, dashed down Woodlawn avenue, past the Technical schools, and turned to cross the bridge, when it collided with another rig going in the opposite direction. Park Policeman Stoerkel stopped the driverless horse before any damage resulted. The owner of the animal, who had been thrown out when the horse frightened, soon appeared and claimed his property. He was unhurt and neither he nor the other driver revealed their identity to the officer.

At the conservatory, Superintendent Burke and his men are rapidly getting things in shape for the Easter flower show. Fifteen straight days of cloudless skies have held back the development of some of the plants, so that it will be necessary to force their growth in order to have them in bloom for the display. From now on until Easter Sunday a lot of hard work will be required to put everything in readiness, and it is possible that some extra men may be put on duty to assist. By next Sunday, it is promised, the azalea and rose houses will be in bloom, but still another week will have to pass before the whole conservatory puts on its Easter appearance. The cineraria and begonia displays attracted must attention yesterday, although not new.

COSTLY CHURCH ARISES FROM ASHES OF THE OLD

Dedication of Our Lady Help of Christians—Half of the Cost Is Already Raised.

Just a year and a day after its predecessor on the same site was destroyed by fire, Our Lady Help of Christians Italian Catholic church, Meadow street, was dedicated yesterday, in the presence of 1,500 people.

The morning sermon was delivered in Italian by the Very Rev. Father Borghino, president of the Seminary of Learning at Troy, N. Y. High mass was celebrated by Father A. L. Athanasius of the Meadow street church, assisted by Bishop Canevin. In the afternoon confirmation services were held at 3 o'clock, at which 150 persons, mostly children, were taken into the church. Bishop Canevin preached the sermon. The Rev. Sixtus Lagorio, pastor of the dedicated church, and the Very Rev. Charles of the Pittsburgh college, assisted in the exercises of confirmation. Other dignitaries present were the Very Rev. Camillers of New York and Father Heir, Father Griffin and Father Anthony of Pittsburgh.

The church is of buff brick and is Romanesque in its style of architecture. It has a seating capacity of 1,500. The interior of the building is decorated with mural paintings. The edifice contaiines stained glass windows throughout and has in front a rose window of classic design. A new $6,000 pipe organ has been placed in the building. The total cost of the structure will be $42,000, of which $20,000 has already been raised.

VAINLY WAITS FOR MASTER.

Dog Tarries at Lockup Having Lost Scent When Owner Was Lifted into Patrol Wagon.

Mike Yanosic's little yellow dog accompanied its master to the Forty-third street police station on Thursday night and stayed outside all night. In the morning, while it was away hunting its breakfast, Yanosic was sent to jail for five days, and being drunk still, was carried out to the patrol wagon by the policemen.

Believing its master still in the station house, it has lingered before the door ever since. All the cells have been shown to the dog, by the policemen at the station, but the animal is still on guard.

POOL ROOM GAMBLING GETS MANY CUSTOMERS

Players Getting Badly Fooled by Descriptions Given of the Running of Races.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—Pool room gambling in New York city reached the height of a season unprecendented in the safe and successful conduct of that business here when eastern racing began last week at Bennings. Pool rooms are open all over the city, women's pool rooms are more numerous than ever, there are few raids and some of those made are palpably mere pretenses at virtue.

David Mitchell and the racing news bureau he organized are handling racing returns for practically all the pool rooms, and are giving excellent service except in one particular—the description of the running of races.

This began with the first race at Bennings, Burns, a jockey, announced he meant to win because the Washington Jockey club gave a silver cup each year to the owner, trainer and jockey of the winner of the first race of the spring meeting. Burns' promise was heralded broadcast. He rode Senator McCarren's Water Dog, whose odds shortened from 12s to 10s.

Thousands played the horse in local pool rooms. When the announcer called, "They're off," he followed with a description in which Water Dog was made to lead throughout the race and win. In a minute this was announced to be a mistake and the real winner, Mr. Belmont's Lackey, was posted.

Miscalling of the running of races continued all week, and reference to the newspaper charts on the following day showed every player that the races he had heard described in a pool room were done so, not merely on guesswork, but to give the horse best played an apparently prominent part in the running.

YALE STUDENTS ENGAGE IN STREET DISTURBANCE

New Haven Police Are Called Upon to Quiet Fight in Which One Man Is Knocked Unconscious.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., April 1.—A police inquiry is being made into the cause of a disturbance which occurred early today just outside of police headquarters in which many scores of Yale undergraduates are thought to have taken part. Of late there has been recrudescence of what are termed locally "Town and Gown" fights on the city streets, but none have been serious enough to warrant police interference until today.

Upon the outbreak of the trouble officers rushed out of police headquarters to disperse the crowd, which numbered several hundred men, boys and women. The officers were swept aside and roughly handled until they began to use their clubs and drove groups of the disturbers upon the New Haven green. One student was picked up unconscious after the fight and taken to the police station.

The police are not certain whether the trouble was between student factions which had been turned out of nearby hotels, or an attempt of students to "rush" a crowd of townspeople who had been at a social gathering in a public hall. Several women who were caught in the scrimmage were badly jostled.

ROCKEFELLER'S TALK RUDELY INTERRUPTED

Sabbath Day Observance Lecture Arouses Interest of Eloquent Crank from Ghetto.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—That calm which usually previals in John D. Rockefeller Junior's Bible class in the Fifth Avenue Baptist church was ruffled this morning by the appearance of a crank from the Ghetto, who insisted on giving his views.

Mr. Rockefeller was giving his views on the proper way of spending the Sabbath when a bewhiskered man, with a Hebraic accent, got up and insisted on reading his views on the subject from a voluminous manuscript. Mr. Rockefeller turned to shut him off by telling him that discussion of the question was only for the members and that it must be to the point, but the man would not be suppressed, and began to read in a haphazard, mumbling manner about the ideas of Emperor Constantine on the Sabbath question. He was finally induced to sit down, but took every opportunity to break in on the proceedings.

When Mr. Rockefeller had finally summed up his views on the subject some of the members remarked that their leader evidently saw no harm in playing golf on Sunday.

DEPEW STILL IN SECLUSION.

New York Senator Has Not Returned to Washington As Was Promised.

NEW YORK, April 1.—(Special.)—Promises that Senator Depew would return to his place in the senate by this time have not been fuifilled, for the reason that hopes of his family for a complete restoration of his health have been disappointed. He is still in retirement on the Elliott F. Shepard estate, back of Scarborough on Hudson.

So closely is the senator guarded that only a few persons living in the immediate neighborhood are able to say from their own knowledge that he is in the "villa," as the house is known. Except for caretakers, Senator Depew is practically alone on the 200-acre estate.

TRIES TO KILL MINISTER.

Hatchet With Which Clergyman Is Dangerously Hurt Found in Leader's Home.

NEW YORK, April 1.—A mysterious attempt was made tonight in Eastport Chester, N. Y., to murder the Rev. John Kopp, pastor of the German Lutheran church there, while on his way to the church where his wife was playing the organ. It is believed a hatchet was used in the attempt to kill the clergyman and such an instrument covered with blood, was later found by the sheriff in the home of Albert De Paul, organist of the church. De Paul, whose wife is choir leader, is missing and the police have sent out a general alarm for his arrest. Mr. Kopp's condition tonight is critical.

Man Know Only as "Joe" Commits Suicide in Hay Loft in Allegheny.

TRAIN KILLS AN UNKNOWN

A man about 65 years old, known only as "Joe," committed suicide about noon yesterday by hanging himself with a rope in the haymow of Mrs. Christina Storch's, 215 Broadway, Fifteenth ward, Allegheny, who conducts the Valentine dairy at that place. The dead man had worked for Mrs. Storch, but she does not know his name. He was seen about the place at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. At 12:30 Mrs. Storch's son Walter went to the barn to call the man to dinner and found him hanging to an iron bar in the haymow.

Capt. John Dixon of No. 14 engine company, cut down the body. The man had been drinking considerably.

An unknown man, aged about 23, was found dead in the Pennsylvania railroad yards at Fifteenth street early yesterday morning, having been run over by a train. His body is at the morgue. He was more than six feet tall. His handkerchief had the letter A on it.

John Bishop, a hostler employed at the stable of Miller & Johnson, 6212 Broad street, where he also made his lodging, died there suddenly early yesterday morning. He was found dead sitting in a chair.

Caroline Bohuert, aged 52, 681 Hartman street, McKeesport, died at midnight Saturday of heart disease.

LOCOMOTIVE RUNS AWAY.

Freight Engine Starts Off By Itself and Crashes Into Two Others and a Caboose.

WEST CHESTER, PA., April 1.—(Special.)—Rushing backward at the speed of 50 miles an hour, a freight locomotive after a run of 30 miles, plunged into a caboose and two other locomotives at Downingtown early this morning, blocking the line. The caboose was destroyed and all three engines badly shattered.

The locomotive was left for a moment by the engineer and fireman on a side track. It suddenly darted away, leaped over to the main track and went westward at terrific speed. Ten miles were covered in record time, but no one was on the engine or in the caboose. What started the locomotive is not known.

INDEPENDENTS NOW IN LINE

be many mines operated under the 1903 scale, which is to be signed within the next few days. This is especially true in Western Pennsylvania. In the Hocking Valley district of Ohio the mines of the Sunday Creek Coal Company, controlled by J. H. Winder, who was floor leader of the operators at the Indianapolis conference last week, will be closed, but most of the other miners will concede the wages provided in the 1903 scale and continue operations.

There will be a general cessation of work in the anthracite regions this morning, pending the negotiations in New York tomorrow between President John Mitchell and the scale committee of the United Mine Workers, with President Baer and the anthracite operators' committee. The anthracite miners will refuse to work by order of President Mitchell and the scale committee, on the ground that there is no contract between them and the operators, that made under the award of the anthracite strike commission of 1902 having expired by limitation on last Saturday night. The anthracite operators are not pleased with this view of the situation, and announce that their mines will be open for work as usual, and that they will protect all miners who report for work. The situation in different localities is shown in detail in the following telegrams to The Gazette:

SCRANTON, April 1.—It is expected that 99 per cent of the miners in this valley will obey the order of the anthracite joint boards directing a cessation of work. All classes of employes, except firemen, engineers and pump runners, who are not affected by the order, will quit, including even those who do not favor a strike. Theoretically it will not be a strike which will go into effect tomorrow morning. It will be merely a cessation of operations, pending negotiations between the mine workers and the coal operators. All of the other big coal companies are following the lead of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western company in posting notices announcing that they stand ready to continue to operate under the provisions of the mine strike commission's award.

WILKES-BARRE, PA., April 1.—In obedience to the suspension order of the miners' scale committee, most of the miners and laborers are moving their tools and supplies from the collieries and breakers. The miners and laborers throughout this district will generally refrain from working until ordered back by the union. Today and tonight the railroad companies were busy filling sidings leading to some of the large breakers with empty coal cars preparatory to making an attempt to continue work tomorrow. Notices are posted at some of the breakers announcing there will be work for all who appiy.

SHAMOKIN, April 1.—A special force of Philadelphia & Reading coal and iron policemen arrived here this evening to assist the regular force in protecting any miners wanting to go to work tomorrow.

MAHANOY CITY, PA., April 1.—Every colliery in the Mahanoy region will be in readiness for operation tomorrow notwithstanding the order of President Mitchell to the men to cease work.

DUBOIS, April 1.—The miners employed at all the workings of this vicinity held a meeting here this afternoon and were unanimous in their acceptance of the order issued by President Patrick Gilday of District No. 2, that with the exception of pumpmen, engineers and firemen, all employes about the mines of the district should do no more work until the issues of the district joint convention at Clearfield, Tuesday, are settled. All men engaged on repair and structural work can continue, the suspension being confined to those actually engaged in the production of coal. The mines of the Erie, Buffalo & Susquehanna and Falls Creek companies were represented at the meeting.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., April 1.—In spite of notices posted by the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company at Windber that the 5,000 miners employed there will be granted the 1903 scale, 1,500 or more union miners from Lloydell, Beaverdale, Dunlo and South Fork will march to Windber tomorrow morning and parade the streets to encourage the men at Windber to join the union.

GREENSBURG, PA., April 1.—The Keystone Coal & Coal Company, operating 15 mines in Westmoreland county, has granted the miners an advance of five per cent. The order issued last night will go into effect tomorrow morning by order of President E. M. Gross.

GREAT BATTLE FOR CONGRESS BY THE DEMOCRATS

did not reach serious proportions, and in fact they dwindled down to very small teapot tempests when the actual vote was reached. It has been demonstrated that with a small majority or with a large one, the party leaders are able to do business effectively and carry out the party policies.

Sanguine Democrats base their hopes upon several signs, the principal one of which is the restless spirit that has manifested itself in various states, Ohio and Pennsylvania especially. Voters who argue that a state election is a local one, fought out upon local issues and without any influence upon the national situation, might do well to consider this. When the people of Ohio listened to the tirade of reformers and followed the Democratic party masquerading behind the banner of a temperance organization, they not only defeated Gov. Herrick for re-election, but what is more important, they roused the Democratic party to action and raised up in its breast an ambition to control the national legislature, and eventually take over the entire federal government. The same is true of Pennsylvania. These "local" fights become national in their effect, and have a wider influence than is anticipated in many cases.

Try to Array Class Against Class.

The Democrats in their fight for control of the house will reach out for every weapon within their grasp to wage the battle. The prejudice of class against class that is being preached by socialist and worse will be utilized. Labor troubles will be fanned with a view to making votes. The insurance investigations, the cry against the use of money in politics, the prejudice against the railroads and the great corporations, in fact every human passion will be played upon in this forthcoming campaign, and it will all be directed against the party in power. This is the sort of battle that is impending, a battle not where great policies are discussed and argued with the people, but where prejudices and hatreds are played upon, a campaign of tearing down, of destruction of the order of things. The voters will not be asked to support Democratic policies so much as they will be urged to destroy the Republican party, to turn out the men who now administer the government. Not a pretty prospect this, but a real one, as viewed by those most familiar with political conditions.

A new feature has been injected into the situation recently. It is the announced determination of the American Federation of Labor to take a hand in politics this fall and try to defeat those members of the house who have opposed the measures advocated by organized labor. President Samuel Gompers and other labor representatives a few days ago called upon President Roosevelt and presented their bill of complaint. It recited a number of grievances, but the two most complained of were the action of congress in suspending the eight-hour law on the Isthmus of Panama, and the failure of congress to enact the anti-injunction law. The President met these men fearlessly and talked to them frankly. He told them that he would always be with them when they were right, and never when they were wrong. He promised to investigate the matters of which they complained, but he said they were in error in opposing the suspension of the eight-hour law on the isthmus. Conditions there are so different from those in this country that no comparison can be made. As to the anti-injunction law, he would not favor it. He called their attention to the fact that the government often utilized the injunction power of the court against corporations, but never had it been applied to labor organizations, though he said it would be if the necessity arose. The same complaints were presented to Speaker Cannon and he, too talked frankly with the labor representatives.

Opinions on Subjects Vary.

If organized labor persists in opposing the re-election of members who do not favor their measures, what will be the effect? That is a question that is being asked here and with a variety of answers. Some politicians are of the opinion that it will have a wide influence, while others do not take the suggestion seriously. I asked the question of a senator who is recognized as one of the most astute and experienced men in politics, and he had no hesitation in saying that he considered the situation a very serious one. He said that if the Federation of Labor is determined to fight certain members of congress, those members who come from districts where union labor is strong, will doubtless feel the effects. Yet it is a question of how many workingmen will decide these questions for themselves, and how many will adopt and vote the views of the leaders of their organizations. In opposing these congregsmen the labor unionists will be obliged to fight Theodore Roosevelt, the President who more than any other has espoused the cause of organized labor. The policies declared to be distasteful to the American Federation of Labor are those proposed and put forward by him and the members of congress who vote to put them into effect, were but following the President's ideas. It is difficult to imagine John Mitchell, head of the miners' organization, joining in a campaign of rebuke to the President, remembering the service done the miners in the last strike by President Roosevelt. If there is to be a contest of this kind it cannot be construed otherwise than an issue between the President and the labor organizations.

It is stated that this movement to defeat certain congressmen is non-partisan, that Democrats as well as Republicans will be opposed if they have not been friendly to the measures of which organized labor approved. This may be true, but the brunt of the battle would of necessity fall upon Republican candidates. One reason is that there are 112 more Republican members of the house than Democratic members, and consequently there will be about the same proportion up for re-election. Another reason is that as a rule, the great industrial districts, where the labor organizations are strongest, and would naturally exercise the greatest influence, are represented by Republican members.

Cannot Ignore Condition.

In the words of a former president, "It is a condition, not a theory that confronts us." It is a condition that must be faced and nothing can be gained by attempting to ignore it. Republicans can well afford to stand on the record of their party and defend its course on every important question and policy. Republican candidates need ask nothing more than to try their case before the voters, and let them decide.

Speaker Cannon and several other leaders of the house are said to be singled out and marked for the slaughter this fall. It has been reported that especial efforts will be exerted in their districts. Whether or not this be true, it is certain that as soon as congress finishes the business of the session, the members who are candidates for re-election will begin the work of the campaign. For it is to be a battle royal. The Democrats have nothing to lose and everything to gain. They see among the possibilities of the future a Democratic president sending free trade messages to a Democratic congress. They scent the offices that will go with the victory. There is no denying that the situation is one that demands serious and patriotic consideration. It is the opinion among the leaders here that it is a time for men to pause and think.

DEATH CLAIMS ARTIST

exhibition now hangs in his home in North Negley avenue.

One of Mr. Lawman's most popular paintings was during the '60s, and later was entitled "Camp Scott." It was painted shortly after the opening of the civil war and depicted a military camp in Linden grove, in the lower Oakland district. The picture was full of life and color. Among the many portraits that Mr. Lawman painted was that of Lieut. Gov. Latta of Pennsylvania. It hung in the state house in Harrisburg for many years and was one of the treasures destroyed with the burning of the old capitol building. Mr. Lawman's portrait of John Harper, Sr., still hangs in the Bank of Pittsburgh. The last portrait painted by Mr. Lawman was that of Mrs. D. T. Watson. This was only a few years ago. Among some of the portraits painted by the dead artist was that of Henry Ward Beecher, Gen. J. K. Moorhead, Thomas M. Marshall, Felix R. Brunot, D. T. Watson, William B. Hart, William Thaw and William B. Negley.

Mr. Lawman and the late William Thaw were great friends, and Mr. Thaw always found a few moments time to drop into Mr. Lawman's studio in Fourth avenue to have a chat with the artist. A. Bryan Walls, whose works hang in the home of many prominent Pittsburgh citizens, was another chum of Mr. Lawman.

Mr. Lawman is survived by his widow and four daughters, Mrs. Edgar Howarth and Mrs. George W. Roebling of New York, Mrs. W. H. Loud of Boston and Miss Mollie Lawman, who lived at home with her father.

Funeral services will be held at his late residence at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and the interment will take place a short time later in the Allegheny cemetery.

PREFER OUNCE OF PREVENTION TO THE POUND OF CURE

A negro appeared at the Homestead police station yesterday morning and announced that there was trouble at the Workingmen's club in Sixth avenue. Several officers went to the place and broke in a door. Fourteen men were rounded up. Cards, dice and beer were found. At the hearings King Finch testified that it was his duty to stand guard at the door. "What fer?" asked the burgess. "To take razors and guns away from visitors," he answered. Finch explained that the club thought it wise to prevent fatalities in case of trouble by having all the players unarmed.

WRITTEN PLEDGE TO FIRE EMPLOYE

Director Clark Said to Have Made a Bargain for Vote of Councilman Pfannkuch.

FIGHT IN SELECT IS CLOSE

While Mayor-elect Guthrie is enthusiastically preaching civil service reform and has publicly announced that no city employe shall be appointed or removed for political reasons, his newly-appointed director of public works, James W. Clark, is said to be securing votes for the administration candidate for president of select council by promises to make numerous changes in the payroll of his department.

One of Director Clark's own followers makes the statement that Clark had promised to give Select Councilman Andrew Pfannkuch, of the Thirty-eighth ward, a written guarantee this morning that he will discharge John Felmeth, chief clerk of the bureau of viewers. Felmeth resides in the Thirty-eighth ward and at the last February election is said to have fought Pfannkuch. Pfannkuch wants Felmeth removed and Clark is alleged to have agreed to discharge him at once if Pfannkuch will vote today for Dr. H. B. Burns for president of select council.

The fight for the presidency of select is close, and Dr. E. R. Walters and Dr. Burns, the opposing candidates, each claim he will be elected, but by a small margin. Both, however, admit that not enough members have signed pledges to give either a majority. They are relying mostly on verbal promises.

"I will have at least 22 votes," said Dr. Walters last night. "It looks very encouraging to me. Select council is Republican and I see no reason why a Republican should not be elected president."

"I am sure of 24 votes and I may get two or three more," said Dr. Burns, the administration candidate.

Walters' chances might be brighter if Director Clark was not so active in the contest. The promises of jobs by Clark and others is expected to have effect upon some councilmen who are more inclined to rely upon the promises of the public works director than upon the public dictations of the new mayor. A few members won by promises of jobs or other favors, may be enough to give Clark's candidate a majority.

The possibility that half a dozen members of select council, who are interested in the candidacy of E. J. Martin for city clerk, may make a bargain at the last moment with Clark to trade votes for Burns and Martin is also having a bearing on the situation. The Clark people have already practically decided that J. L. Lowry, who was formerly slated for city clerk, shall be made the candidate for the second place, and there are still rumors that Martin may be substituted for Lowry if it is found Burns cannot win otherwise.

William Brand's election for president of common council seems assured, and Director Clark and his lieutenants appear to be confining their attention almost exclusively to the organization of the upper branch.

Each branch of councils will assemble in its chamber at city hall this morning at 10 o'clock for organization. Each body will make up its roster and elect its president, and both will go into joint session immediately afterward in the common council chamber to elect a city clerk and assistant clerk. Each of the two clerks will be elected by a majority vote of the members present from both branches.

After organization of the councils they will adjourn, taking a recess until 12 o'clock, when George W. Guthrie will be inaugurated mayor of Pittsburgh for a term of three years. The inaugural ceremony will be simple but impressive. Preperations are being made for a big crowd.

Will Install a Pastor.

The Westmoreland presbytery will meet tomorrow in the First United Presbyterian church, Sixth avenue, McKeesport, the Rev. McElwee Ross pastor. Sessions will be held in the morning, afternoon and evening. At the evening session Mr. Ross will be installed.

Fast Freight Train Kills Two Men.

TAMAQUA, PA., April 1.—Thomas Arner, aged 60, and William Barron, aged 28, while walking on the Reading tracks near here last night, were struck by a fast freight train and both instantly killed. The greater part of Barron's body was ground to pieces.

DEPARTMENTS OF SUNDAY GAZETTE ARE OF UNEXAMPLED EXCELLENCE

Those various departments of The Sunday Gazette, the news columns, the illustrated half-tone section, the Home Journal section, were certainly up to snuff yesterday. Each and every one of them, appreciating in the weather the first breath of spring, took on the spirit of the occasion and fairly outdid themselves in their efforts to please their thousands of admirers. The half-tone section was a beauty bright. Those who are waiting for the crack of the bat and the sound of the coacher's voice, had their appetites whetted by the photographs of the Pittsburgh baseball team, on whom they have been speculating since the Pirates started for the training grounds at Hot Springs. There is a little bit of dog show in advance, and a glimpse of what lovers of the canine beautiful may expect when the kings and queens and princes of dogdom have been gathered here the latter part of this week. There is just a dash of the theatrical and a few thoughts in more sober vein, but the whole forms a combination of photographic beauty never surpassed in magazine work.

The Home Journal section is right up to the handle with another assortment of those articles and suggestions which the women like to read. There are hints for the kitchen, for the dining-room, boudoir and nursery, with some nicely stated facts regarding up-to-date lingerie in which all feminine hearts delight.

Nemo's troubles in getting into Slumberland are enough to excite genuine sympathy in the youthful breast. He made a gallant effort yesterday and almost succeeded, only to "fall down" at the crucial point. Mr. Coon was in it again up to his eyes, and this time did not get the worst of it. Little Jimmy, the Tiny Tads and Sammy Sneeze had prominent places in the comical cast.

FAIR GREEK DANSEUSE TAKEN IN POLICE RAID

Only Actress in the Country Who Has Her Own Stage and Orchestra.

Pittsburgh's only Greek dancer, Mrs. Charles Thanopolis, who, the police say, charms her expatriated fellow-countrymen with the dances that soothed the perturbed spirits of the gods on Mt. Olympus, was arrested yesterday in a raid in 5 Diamond square. Thanapolis, the fair dancer's husband, keeps a restaurant on the third floor. Here there is a stage where Mrs. Thanopolis dances Grecian steps to music of a Grecian orchestra, but never on Sunday.

The patrons are all Greeks and usually drink coffee, but the police say they can also get liquor, and yesterday several cases of beer and some wine was found in the place. The second floor is occupied by George Sephus, who also keeps a restaurant and where liquor was also found, and he, too, was arrested. In both rooms 28 men were found, all of whom were locked up. The crowd was very orderly.

TO BUILD NEW CHURCH.

Glassport M. E. Congregation Outgrows Present Edifice and Will Spend $15,000 on Another.

At a meeting of the Methodist Episcopal congregation of Glassport yesterday it was decided to advertise for bids for the erection of a new church. The rapid growth of the congregation has caused the action. A building committee favors a brick-veneered and stone building, which will cost about $15,000. The new church will occupy the site on which the present building stands.

A building fund was started. Socials and entertainments will be arranged and the proceeds will be paid into the building fund. The building committee is composed of the trustees as follows: A. V. Cunningham, A. W. Cole, H. F. Boren, Frank Chester, William Cochenour and Edward Mowery. The Rev. D. P. Steelsmith is the pastor.

Sewickley Y. M. C. A. Celebrates.

In the auditorium of the Sewickley Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon a special meeting was held commemoraitve of the 12th anniversary of the association's beginning. The principal speaker was Robert A. Orr of Pittsburgh, who was among those who spoke at the meeting 12 years ago, when the organization was formed. The musical program was furnished by the association male chorus, with a solo by William Nevin.

PATROL WAGON BREAKS DOWN

Prisoners Have to Get Out and Walk to Police Station.

A broken axle on the patrol wagon attached to Penn avenue police station caused trouble yesterday afternoon. Inspector Boyle raided the house of Mrs. Margaret Sullivan on Jones avenue shortly after 5 o'clock and arrested Mrs. Sullivan and three visitors. The prisoners were placed in the patrol wagon and it had proceeded about a block when the rear axle snapped and let the wagon down. No one was hurt but it was necessary to walk the prisoners from Jones avenue across the Twenty-eighth street bridge to the station house in Penn avenue.

While getting the wrecked wagon down the hill Officer Michael Conley had a finger crushed.

It never disappoints. Pilene positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

So people who wish some new linens to take along into their new habitats are invited to read the following as close as they think proper. It is quite sure that no such good linens for the various uses of the home were ever sold for such small prices.

The Salon d' Exposition Parisien will be the magnet that will draw women to the second floor, West, this week. Besides the unsurpassable exhibit of gowns and costumes, wraps and hats, all exhibited in a novelly unique way, the Salon itself is a study. Every bit of work, every design, from the Grand Entrance to the Canopy of Smilax, was executed by our Contract Division. It forcibly illustrates the character of the work we do in taking charge of the Interior decorations of houses.

General sorrow will be felt over the death of Jasper Lawman, Pittsburgh's oldest and most distinguished portrait painter. Mr. Lawman lived the greater part of his long life here, and here he won his name and success. He had many friends who mourn deeply for him.

An article printed in The Gazette yesterday morning threw some light on the necessity for more tenement inspectors and graphically illustrated the need for better building inspection. Tenements are being erected without doors at the back of the buildings; some without proper fire escapes. This should not be permitted. Such fire escapes as are provided are frequently cluttered with impedimenta by tenants. There should be tenement inspectors to see this is not done. Tenements impose great responsibilities on city governments.

Sir Frederick Treves has been quoted as saying in effect that disease is beneficent, as marking an effort of nature to heal. That is in direct denial, almost, of the theory that disease is the result of perversion of natural function. But the layman can hardly grasp the technical reasons brought forward by the men whose profession it is to arrest and cure the patient of his ailments. Nevertheless it is a strong stain on belief in the physician to accept as beneficent an attack of rheumatism, or to regard jumping toothache in any such light.

While the beet sugar industry of this country is in a highly developed state we must give the palm to Germany for securing the highest unit value for every part of the sugar beet through the most approved scientific methods. It is the beet sugar by-products in that country that are nearly as important as the sugar extracted from the beet. As American ingenuity has been successful in the close utilization of the cotton seed there is no reason why we should not develop the same economies in the handling of the sugar beet.

Again it is announced there will be no revision of the tariff at this session of congress. This will cause no surprise. Revision has not been expected since the meeting of congress. it is no time to talk about tariff revision now; that should have been undertaken at the first of the session; it should have been considered last fall. Whether revision is attempted at the next session will probably depend on the result of the intervening congressional elections, but in any case it will not be as favorable a time as would have been the session now drawing to a close.

We are great as a people and a nation, and our excessive pride in domain and achievements naturally lead us to indiscriminate exaggeration. The British empire stands out against us in overshadowing greatness of domain and population, her area amounting to 12,000,000 square miles. Russia comes next, but it has only 8,660,395 square miles. Great as China is supposed to be France excels her by something over 19,000 square miles of territory. The United States is fifth, exercising domain over 3,693,169 square miles, less than one-third of the British dominions.

Earl Grey, governor general of Canada, was the guest of honor at a banquet given by a distinguished society of New York, Saturday night, and in his speech he pretty clearly demonstrated that the Dominion and the United States were in too close propinquity, socially and geographically to ever have any serious quarrel. In fact, he insisted they were interdependent. This is an era of good feeling, and there is no reason why we should not cultivate the good will of Canada, when her most distinguished representative heralds her friendly feeling for us. This impression was further cemented when the governor general, after referring to the enormous development now going on in Canada hoped that "you (the United States) will allow us to continue to draw largely on your friendly and powerful assistance."

Much has been said, written and suggested as to the proper methods that should be employed for the preservation of Niagara Falls. One suggestion appeals most strongly as to practicability, that is the cession of the Niagara reservation, now state property, by New York to the federal government. While it is an original proposition, it has the merit of trial and vindication in the case of the Yosemite valley, which is now preserved from vandalism and commercialism by having been ceded to the United States government by California for a national park. Yellowstone park is also national. This action, it would seem, would simplify the Niagara Falls problem to some extent.

New Administrations.

Today new mayors will be inaugurated in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, new men will come into possession of the executive offices. Councils in both cities will organize. It is a day fraught with momentous consequences. Upon these events, in part, hangs the municipal destiny of this great community for the ensuing three years. It may be truthfully said the people of both cities are looking forward to a better order of things than has prevailed for three years past, firm in the faith they can suffer no worse.

The people are ready to give loyal support to the new administrations as long as they remain loyal to their pledges and true to the public interest. They are ready to swallow some natural disappointment over some of the appointees announced on both sides of the Allegheny river in the hope their suspicious may not prove true. But if either administration proves false to its trust it can expect nothing but loss of the public confidence and popular contempt.

To Mayor Guthrie The Gazette extends congratulations. It opposed his election on party grounds, but will be glad to support him as far as it can in bringing about needed reforms in the city government. In common with the majority of the people The Gazette expects much from Mr. Guthrie—an administration in keeping with his high personal character and it is prepared to help him to that end.

We have commented on the men already chosen for the mayor's cabinet. We note he has not yet named a treasurer, or collector of delinquent taxes. We believe he will choose proper men. But we wish to offer a suggestion, not by way of interference, but as a possible help to the new mayor. The office of delinquent collector has been a blot on the city for years. Councils have passed an ordinance reducing the compensation, but leaving it on the fee basis and still at an exorbitant figure. Mayor Guthrie has the opportunity to put an end to this state of things. He may appoint a man requiring him, after payment of reasonable clerical expenses to turn into the city treasury all fees above a proper salary, not to exceed $5,000 a year, for himself. There is precedent for this. The thing was done by John Hunter, when elected receiver of taxes in Philadelphia, not more than a quarter of a century ago. We believe this action would be of great benefit to Mayor Guthrie at the beginning of his administration.

Not less important than the new executives are the new councils. These will be organized, unless present signs fail, by the Republicans in both cities. This will put upon the Republican members the responsibility of upholding the pledges of their party. They must do better than their predecessors. They must adhere to the promises of good government, reject the franchise without compensation and bring expenditures to the minimum consistent with efficient public service. They will be observed as closely as the executives and as sharply condemned for lapses from the higher standards of public duty that have been set by popular opinion.

Get Stone for Bread.

Maryland Democrats have not profited by the lesson conveyed by the defeat of the Poe constitutional amendment for the disfranchisement of voters to secure perpetual machine rule. They are now attempting another method of accomplishing the same purpose. A bill was introduced in the Maryland senate, called the Murphy "Square deal" election law, providing for cleaner and honester elections, intending to throw some additional safeguards around the ballot, and to prevent a manipulation of the votes after they were cast. The Democratic followers of Gorman have reported a substitute for the Murphy bill, which they euphemistically call an "amendment."

It would seem to be an impossible feat to amend anything that has been entirely effaced. Nothing of the original measure is left. The substitute does not in any of its features satisfy the demand of the people of Maryland for a measure which will correct the election abuses that have disgraced the state for some time past. It is nothing but a Gorman trick. Among other things it provides for the counting of "straight" tickets first and the "split" tickets afterwards. It doesn't require a very perspicuous mind to see that this procedure would enable corrupt election officials to see "how the cat was jumping" before the count was finished, and "to singe her fur" to suit by throwing out enough "split" tickets to change the result.

This is the worst danger spot in the substitute bill, but there are other features that threaten the sanctity of the ballot box. In the language of the author of the Murphy measure, "the people asked for bread and are given a stone."

Fight for Congress.

Champ Clark has been interpreted seriously by both congressional campaign committees. Our staff correspondent in Washington tells now and why this is so. The statesman from Bowling Green, Mo., speaking in the disguise of a jester, conveyed to the Democracy the party plan of the next two years, following the cue given by Alton B. Parker just after his overwhelming defeat for the presidency.

It is the purpose of the Democrats to make a hard fight all along the line this year for control of the house of representatives in congress. Fortunately it is also the purpose of the Republican committee to make a vigorous campaign from the beginning to retain control. There is to be no resting in security; no reliance on the apparent "sure thing" indicated by a majority of 112 in the membership of the house. The committee has reached a wise conclusion and it may be hoped the Republican voters of the country will respond in the same spirit. The whole matter depends, in the last analysis on the voters.

Everywhere Democrats have been encouraged by "the results in Ohio and Pennsylvania." They have probably been less encouraged in these two states than elsewhere, because the people of these two states can better understand the nature of the campaigns conducted in them than persons farther away. There is no denying, however, that Democrats in Pennsylvania have been inspired with new hopes, or that they are preparing to repeat the performance this year—if they can. They cannot if Republican voters rouse themselves to realization of what it all means; that election of a "non-partisan," fusion governor will be accompanied by Democratic gains in congress from the great Republican state of Pennsylvania.

Republicans in Ohio need to be as much on their guard as Republicans in Pennsylvania. Republicans in West Virginia should not become so much absorbed in their factional affairs as to overlook their party in congress—they lost one district in their last election to a brother of the recent Democratic candidate for vice president. There are pretending Republicans who will argue there is no danger, alleged Republicans who are willing to sacrifice the party to gain their own ends. They will masquerade in state elections under any alias likely to deceive honest voters and play into the hands of Democracy on the chance of securing personal preferment. They will advocate "reform" and shout for the destruction of the "machine," but their sole purpose is to get public office, or to obtain control of the "machine" for themselves.

This is no time for honest Republicans to listen to these enemies in the camp and in the rear. The battle lines are forming for a hard fight for the maintenance of Republican principles. Every steady, loyal hand is needed. The traitors should be kicked out on the firing line where they must fight for or against the party and take their share of the punishment.

Emperor William apparently attained his desire at Algeciras. He has set the powers hard at work spending money on their military establishments.

Rate bill amendments will occupy the attention of the country this week, and Tillman may have an opportunity to display his pitchfork.

Reform in Spelling.

If we are to have "spelling reform" it should be general and not spasmodic. It should be the result of the ripest judgment of our best scholars, representing universities, colleges and public schools. Certain newspapers and even some educational publications, venture a "spelling reform" of their own. That, it is needless to say, is offensive and disconcerning, as well as confusing to the reader, and it ought to be frowned down. The existing standards should be adhered to until superseded by recognized authority.—Scranton Truth.

A Calamity Averted.

Although there is a Democratic quarrel going on in Arkansas, it is a matter of congratulation to the whole country to know that Senator Berry has practically won his fight for re-election. A senator is a national servant as well as an "ambassador from his state." To replace Berry with Jeff Davis would be nothing short of a calamity.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Quiet Observations on Timely Topics

April Showers, Dog Shows, and Moving Scenes, the Order of the Day.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Are you moving? If not why not? This is the last time you will have the privilege of enjoying an April flitting, for regular flittin's day has been changed from the month of showers to the month of flowers.

This change will mark the passing of another tie between country and city. In the country it is necessary for those who change from one farm or garden to another to do so not later than April first in order that they may begin their spring work in good time.

For years and years the country style has prevailed in this city, and in some others, but one by one the larger cities have fixed a later date, and now Pittsburgh swings into the new line.

There are those among business men who contend that May first is too late a date on which to change business places. They argue that in most lines spring stocks have been put in, and regular trade already under way.

Possibly the new regulations may not be applied to business houses, but to residence only. That the change will be most agreeable to those who rent houses, and are subject to frequent change of domicils, there can be no doubt.

For some cause or another the seasons have so changed that April is but little improvement on March, and May corresponds with the April of long ago. And yet not so long ago that many of you have forgotten the time when snowdrops and daffodils were in evidence on All Fool's day.

As if to lighten the hearts bowed down with moving cares, and aches, and bruises, the dog show comes with its playful, capering, yelping train of canines of high and low degree. Well, hardly low degree, if points are counted, but from a common sense, artistic point of view, some of the high degree pups are merely low flung specimens of dogs.

The dog show has long been a fad in some cities, and if it continues to grow in popularity it will soon rank as a national fad.

New York was crazier over its dog show this year than over its horse show, which had long been acknowledged the fad par excellence.

It was noticable there that many of the exhibitors were women. Not only were they exhibitors of pet poodles and toy dogs, but of kennels of all sorts from great danes to bow-legged bull pups.

The newest, and the funniest, and the foolishest thing about the dog show is the exhibitor of dog drygoods, haberdashery and footgear.

What do you think of this from the New York Sun's review of the dog clothing market:

"Fashion has made notable additions to the pet dog's wardrobe this season.

"Conspicuous among them are the squirrel-lined velvet coats worn by pampered minions of the lapdog tribe. An italian greyhound clad in one of these coats in scarlet velvet made a distinct sensation on the avenue.

"The garment had an easy evening cloak fit. A fluted collar flared back from the neck, showing the silvery fur lining to advantage.

"A carriage cloak in heavy twilled silk gayly plaided in a dozen colors and lined with golden brown fur was worn by a little lapdog on a drive to the park. So little of the doglette showed that identification was impossible.

"Another sensation was made by a Boston bull rigged in a spruce dark green Scotch serge coat plaided in lemon yellow. A piping of yellow leather edged the coat, which was further adorned by an elaborate initial in brass open work set right on the cloth.

"Dog's shoes come in all sizes. They are made of heavy russet leather. They draw up well over the foot and are laced into place. France started the fad for these shoes.

"Thoroughly novel are the dog sweaters. They are the real thing in heavily ribbed knitted work.

"They slip on over the dog's head and stretch well down over the body. There are two holes in the bag-like structure for the front legs to pass through. The collar is finished with the regular rolling sweater collar."

What great faddists we are coming to be, or becoming, if you prefer. But while we laugh, and poke fun at fads and faddists, they not only continue to live, but they thrive and grow fat, and somewhat, if not largely, at our expense, for you who laugh pay to see the show all the same. And it you don't watch out you will become something more than merely an amused observer.

Fads are great aids to civilization, and to general improvement, for there is always something good in a fad. Therefore, let us welcome faddists, and work them for all there is in their fads.

See what faddists have done in the way of developing new species of dogs, pigeons and chickens, to say nothing of improving horse flesh, kine and various domestic animals, not excepting cats.

But right now is the present time, the dog show is the thing, rain or shine, stormy or pleasant weather.

In the spring the thoughts of bachelors lightly turn to love. Most naturally, for in the natural order of things it is the season for mating.

One of them asks what month a woman should be born in to insure her being all that a man wants in his wife. Following is the only brief list at hand:

January bride—Prudent housekeeper and sweet-tempered.

February—Affectionate wife and tender mother.

March—Frivolous chatterbox and given to quarreling.

April—Inconstant, not intelligent, fairly good looking.

May—Handsome, amiable, and a happy disposition.

June—Impetuous and generous.

July—Pretty, smart and quick-tempered.

August—Amiable and practical.

September—Discreet, affable and much liked.

October—Pretty, coquettish and jealous.

November—Liberal and kind, but of a wild disposition.

December—Well proportioned, fond of novelty, entertaining and extravagant.

"Yes"—with increasing wonder—"and it has never been out of this parlor."

"There are no other young ladies in this house?"

"No."

The Black Eye Explained.

Dr. Borden P. Bowne, professor of philosophy at Boston university, has a unique way of expressing himself in scriptural language, much to the delight of his pupils.

One day, some years ago, Dr. Bowne entered the class room with his usual genial smile, the effect of which was heightened by a most decided black eye. The students looked and wondered, but the explanation, or perhaps justification of the black eye was to follow, for taking his seat, the good doctor prefaced his lecture on theism with the simple rembark: "Last night I was groping in darkness, when suddenly I saw a great light."—Boston Herald.

The Deacon's Wise Counsel.

Things are awful dull, aren't they, my young lady friend? says the Village Deacon. You just can't find anything to do in the old town. Terrible to have to live in a place where you can find absolutely nothing to do from one morning's end to another. But I can tell you how you can keep busy part of the time. Tomorrow morning you can hop out of bed early and get breakfast started. Then go in and tell mother she need not get up until she feels like it. If she wants it, you can fix up some toast and coffee and take it to her room. After breakfast wash the dishes, sweep and dust the rooms and straighten up things generally. Then get busy with dinner. You may have to chase down town for a thing or two, but it will do you good. Mother got strong running her own errands. After dinner is over and you have things cleared away you can find time to do the sewing you say you need. You might slip in an hour or two by reading some good book. Then you can get supper, and after it is over and the dishes are washed you will be at liberty to spruce up, sit in the parlor and Wait For His Coming. Of course, this routine would get tiresome in the course of a quarter of a century, but you will find that you haven't more than got to be a fair hand at it until some Nice Man will pick you up and set you into a home of your own—and then you will have plenty to do to keep you busy.—Kansas City Journal.

Some Difference.

H. J. Allen, an editor of Ottowa, Kas., while electioneering for congress among the farmers of his district, took with him the champion corn husker of the state.

"You see," said Mr. Allen to a reporter, "while I argue and plead, the corn husker pitches in and husks corn for the farmer. Thus the farmer's time is not wasted. While he stands idle listening to me the corn husker carries on the work of the farm for him.

"Between listening while the work goes back and listening while the work goes forward there is not much of a difference, yet it is one which has a remarkable effect on the impression I create. In this way it is like a certain compliment.

"One man said to another:

"'I pleased Mrs. Brown tremendously the other night by asking her if she was herself or her daughter. Said I couldn't tell them apart.'

Is the Greatest of These Charity?

Present-Day Philanthropies Make a Vice of the Greatest Virture.

By A MINISTER.

It is a saying worthy of belief that the most excellent virtues are also the most easily abased. The highest attainments are generally ill understood. There is charity, for example. Probably no word which springs from the lips of men has been associated with so much bad religious practice as this profound verity, about which the world has used and abused an historic utterance: "Charity shall cover the multitude of sins."

Peter, the apostle, was right, but he would give vent to fiery protest if he could visit the earth today and see how he is falsely represented. Present-day charity, so-called, makes a man of healthy desires wish that it were out of existence. For is there anything in the world which does more to soften moral muscle, befog the vision, sugar-coat the wrong, exalt the unworthy, than this sin-covering virtue turned vice?

Charity is popularly conceived to be the free bestowal of help of any kind upon those who are or seem to be in need. It is in this sense that it has wrought such mischief in the world. For it is constantly making people less moral and more helpless. The acid criticism which is abroad against the organizations which studiously administer charity is sufficient condemnation of the unwisdom and immorality on the subject which exists in the minds of many people.

Who are they whose charitableness is chiefly known of men? The newspapers picture the matter truly, and as the people would believe. The philanthropists are largely those whose lives are lax in the sterner stuff which keeps the world in holy order.

A colossal fraud, or a sleek libertine, arrested or dying, will never neglect the hunger the world has to know his charities. He knows the effect of helping a newsboy, of paying for a funeral, of giving a couple of dollars to the dependent who is "up against it," and he makes invaluable capital of his cheap investment. Cheap, that is, in comparison with his plundering and debauchery which has affected its thousands, and probably broken a noble woman's heart and blighted the hopes of his children.

The toleration of such charity is a prevailing sign of degeneracy. It is founded upon a diseased sentimentalism, which passes for religion. It is permitted to flourish because there is no potent regard for common sense in the churches today. The virtues of hardihood are preached little and practiced infinitely less. Men and women, both in the church and the world, cut more figure with soft answers and welling responses to pleas for relief than they who have a saving sense of the other and more effective side of the Gospel. Thousands of dollars are poured into charities which are made possible and vicious by the flabby morals of their benefactors. Looking over the congregations, the soft, excessively non-resistant note of the message of religion is indelibly marked on the faces of so-called Christians. A man with force and righteous aggressiveness seems to be out of place.

So is it in the world of affairs. On the highways of the state the man who "delivers the ointment" of pleasantness need have little fear for his success. People look only on the outward appearance of his fat check, or hear only the sweet blandishments of his suave tongue, and he is a fine man!

Here is a real illustration of the ways of charity: A certain layman, whose giving to his church is much more than that of any of his co-worshipers, is the owner of houses in which prostitution is the avowed and known business. On account of the location of the houses in the colony set apart for that vice, he is able to exact a rental four times the normal price. Now that man is a philanthropist. He is gentle and generous. He is a great elder in the house of God!

Is there resentment at this state of affairs? Yes, a little. There are yet in the world those who see that life consists not exclusively in giving to the poor and unfortunate; who believe rather that life has its stern, rigorous and inflexible exactions which must be respected.

Of course, the world must have charity. Hearts must beat warm and true. Life is not a thing of repulsive severity. And yet charity must not be sickly. Spite of the debauching of charity, it may be made both attractive and wholesome.

Of itself it is not of any worth. Charity is valuable according to its purpose, its utility. Charity must be effective of good. It must serve the welfare both of the giver and the recipient. In other words, it must be just.

It is only the beginning of charity when we give a sympathetic word or a cup of cold water. A word in the utmost kindness and sincerity may be damning, and even a cup of water may be poison. Charity must be given according to the eternal right. To give encouragement to the wrong by however little an act or gift is irrevocably uncharitable and unjust.

The man who is wisely charitable is constantly thinking of the consequences of his benavior, and not giving simply for the sake of giving. He never acts on a mere request, if he can help it, for he needs the material facts in order that he may commit no offense of over-zeal or carelessness. He desires no retarding of the progress of God's plans, not even in the least of His children. Thus it appears that to be charitable it is necessary to have more than wealth; indeed, it is a commonplace fact that the best charity is in those who have little of riches but much of richness.

To make the world not chiefly more comfortable in body, but more abundant in spirit, is the great word on charity. This is the triumph of love and of justice. It is so much better than the hospital method of waiting till people are impotent and wretched. For example, which is better, to mourn with them that mourn over the bodies of citizens murdered—are they not murdered?—by a polluted water supply, or to cry out effectively against the city's infamy which kills off its victims? Is not an ounce of justice worth tons of post-mortem charity?

The assertion may be hazarded that there is more real charity in spending private and state monies to overcome causes of dependence than to daily with the evils of physical and moral destitution. What makes so many so-called charitable institutions, with the orphan, the prematurely old, the mentally and bodily distressed? It is man's injustice. Many a beautiful building is fervently erected as an expensive monument to man's inhumanity to man. God is not mocked by such loosened purse-strings, for He knows that all—or much, at least—of this wretchedness is brought on by oppressing the people.

Without the slightest doubt, the worst aspect of this whole unhappy subject is the general misinterpretation of Jesus. From the earliest time He has been characterized in such a way as to make it impossible for any man with rich red blood in his veins to wish to follow Him. Art has effeminized Him; hymn-writers have made of Him an other worldling, sickled o'er with the glorious struggle which God gave Him to wage here below; and possy likewise has pictured Him in the soft words of absolute non-resistance.

But who can so read the story of the woes He cried against every form of evil; or His scourging in the temple; or His absolute insistence upon the right, throughout His ministry? Jesus was true to Himself, and thus true to human hearts when they are at their best. His virile, vigorous and terrible allegiance to right—that is the heart of His charity! He was interested, infinitely less in occasional acts of kindliness than in constant service to rectitude. With Him love was a profanation, unless it was founded on right. Men's experience prove His correctness, for love is not fully effective until it comes from a good heart. Love—or charity, in the fullest sense—the greatest of virtues, must subsist on the nutriment of goodness.

Each concrete case calling for our assistance is a law unto itself, but this is the principle which must always be applied if true charity and real philanthropists would flourish:

A single-minded purpose to make every feeling, thought, word, act, make for the improvement of every man in the world; and thus for the perfecting of the kingdom of God.

CASUAL GLIMPSES AROUND THE CITY

Notes About People and Events in Which Pittsburghers Are Interested.

"Even in this day of specialized industry," said Patrick M. Hughes, a merchant "it seems remarkable how a little specialty may foot up in the manufactures of a big state. Did you ever hear of the 'Missouri meerschaum?' That's the modern name of the ordinary corncob pipe. The manufacture of corncob pipes in Missouri now is the work of dozens of factories and amounts to the neat sum of $1,000,000 yearly—all out of the despised corn cobs that were once considered worthless, except for fertilizer. The tables are now turned. So great is the demand for these pipes that farmers are raising a kind of corn that is nearly all cob. The small corn grains are sold at a loss, but the big cob is carefully kept for 'Missouri meerschaums.' The moral of this is that every state has within its borders some peculiar product that can be used to advantage if properly boomed."

He Will Be a Republican.

Colonel Guffey insists upon a straight Democrat for governor, but is willing to let the other offices go to anybody who wants them. We should say that if Col. Guffey can get the governor he will beat all present expectations, as there are several other parties that want the governor just as much as he does.

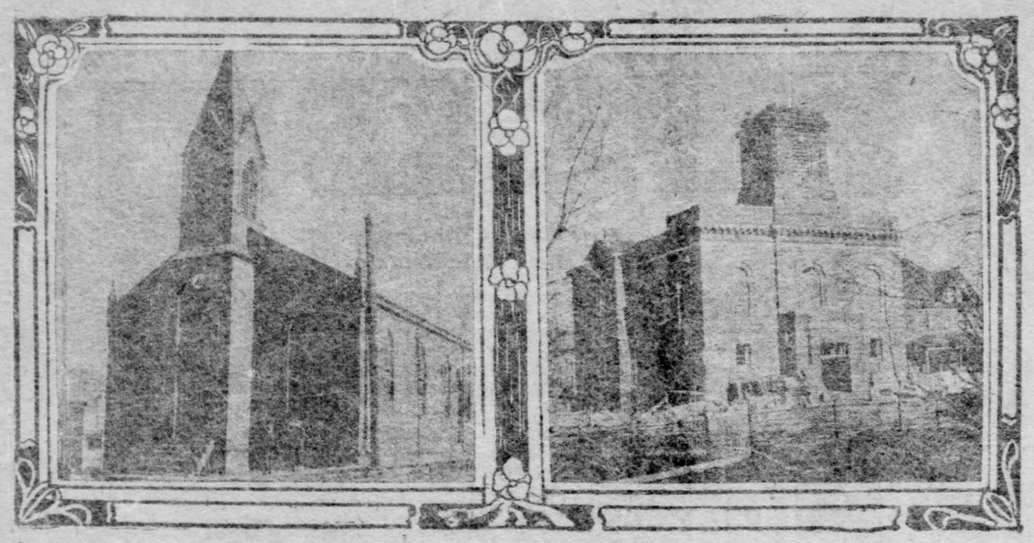
DEDICATION OF NEW HOMESTEAD HOUSE OF WORSHIP



Old St. Francis Church, Occupied for 14 Years. The Edifice, Just Completed at a Cost of $45,000.

With impressive exercises the new St. Francis Roman Catholic church at Ninth avenue and McClure street, Homestead, was dedicated at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Bishop Canevin did not officiate, but in his absence the dedicatory rites were performed by Vicar General Suhr. Prior to the exercicises high mass was celebrated by the Rev. William Jordan, pastor of St. Francis congregation. The address in English was made by Monsignor Suhr and the sermon in German by the Rev. Father Bauer, D. D. Under the direction of Sister Rose Mary, the school children sang the mass. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the new stations in the church, which were donated by a member of the congregation, were blessed, the devotion of the "Way of the Cross" was recited and the benediction, with the blessed sacrament ended the ceremonies.

The new church building, which contains not only the place of worship, but the parochial school, was erected during the winter at a cost of $45,000. A large meeting room is in the basement; the school rooms and hall are on the second floor, and the auditorium, with sacristies and gallery, are on the third floor. The building is of the Colonial design, with a frontage of 54 feet and a depth of 100 feet. It is of brick and stone. The little frame church, occupied by the congregation 14 years ago, when the church was organized from a handful of members from St. Mary Magdalene congregation, was moved to leased ground on the opposite corner. The lease expired yesterday, and while the old building is for sale, the sentiment surrounding it makes many of the members reluctant to part with it. The new church will, it is felt, be large enough to accommodate the rapidly increasing German Catholic population in the locality.

It was intended originally to dedicate the church after Easter, but because the lease on the old lot expires so soon, it was considered better to have the dedicatory exercises at once. The board of trustees of St. Francis church are Anthony Funk, Joseph Nau, Peter Shipe, John Bost, C. F. Kuenze and Louis Weber.

ICEMEN WILL NOT RETURN TO WORK

Sunday Labor and Increased Pay Are Main Points of Contention in New Scale.

OPEN SHOP IS PERMANENT

What is virtually a strike, although it is not termed so, is now existing among the icemen of the city. At a meeting of the Ice Wagon Drivers' union yesterday afternoon it was decided to refuse to work unless the ice companies return to the closed shop. Since the Ice Dealers' league has declared an open shop, and refused to recognize the union or arbitrate with it, the situation is rather gloomy.

The union yesterday thoroughly discussed the scale which it presented to the employers, and it was the general opinion that there were only two demands which could be arbitrated to an amicable agreement. These are the Sunday work and the increased wages. The men are a unit against the Sunday work.

T. J. Minnehan, the national organizer of the teamsters, was present and said the employers were at fault. The men were willing to work, and try to settle the differences, but they have been locked out.

A meeting has been called for tomorrow night, and every effort will be made to make some arrangements by which a settlement can be reached. A scale committee has been appointed, and will stand ready to confer with the Ice Dealers' league at any time.

Meanwhile the companies have been very busy, and say that no customers shall suffer from the strike. They claim to have enough men to deliver ice as usual today, and say that while they will give the old drivers work as individuals, they will not recognize them as union men. They assert that the open shop will be permanent.

GREAT CROWDS LIKELY TO SEE MAYOR SWORN IN

Allegheny Council Chambers Are Decorated in Preparation for the Inaugural Ceremonies.

The dying of an old administration and birth of its successor will likely be witnessed by hundreds in Allegheny this morning. The city council chambers have been decorated with flags and flowers in honor of the incoming of Mayor Charles F. Kirschler. The ceremony of induction into office will be held in select council chamber shortly before noon.

All preparations for the event have been completed and it is expected a great crowd will assemble to see the exercises.

President Francis J. Torrance and City Clerk Lafayette Wills, will administer the oath of office of Mayor Kirschler, and the latter will at once announce to the joint session of councils his appointments to the offices in his gift. Select council will then confirm the appointment and Mayor Kirschler will take his seat. He will be met in the mayor's office by Mayor James G. Wyman, who will formally turn over the keys and leave the office he has occupied during the past three years. Here Mayor Kirschler will hold a reception for an hour.

Fight Among Miners Ends in Murder.

GREENSBURG, PA., April 1.—(Special.)—During a fight in a speakeasy at Export, this county, last midnight, Herman Stevicks, a Slav, shot Thomas Williams, who died almost instantly. Late in the afternoon a score of the miners met at the shanty to celebrate the granting of an advance to the miners. Stevicks attempted to get away, but was captured and turned over to Constable R. L. Painter.

CHURCH MEMBER MAKES SERIOUS ACCUSATION

Says Funds Have Been Misappropriated and Will Endeavor to Prove It Today.

"Church funds have been misappropriated and I expect to prove it. Access to the treasurer's books has been refused, and no account of moneys received has been made. The preacher is nothing but a beggar and money-getter." These were some of the statements made last evening by Joseph H. Moore, the man who will appear against the Eleventh United Presbyterian church, West End, at 9:30 a. m. today, charging the officers of that congregation with partial misuse and misappropriation of funds, alleged to amount to about $10,000. J. A. Henderson, treasurer of this fund, refused either to deny or assent to these charges.

The Rev. William R. Thompson, pastor of the church, at first refused to make any statement, but finally said that the above charges were overdrawn. When charged with the question of partial misappropriation of funds, he indignantly exclaimed:

"I never had a cent of the funds in question in my possession!"

Mr. Thompson has the support of the large majority of his congregation, as indicated by a recent vote of the members, 70 favoring Mr. Thompson and 12 voting against him.

LAY CORNERSTONE OF NEW MONTEFIORE HALL

Erected by Hebrew Organization, but Doors Always Open to Any Religious Sect.

Fully 1,000 people attended the laying of the cornerstone of the Montefiore auditorium, Fifth avenue, near Craft avenue, yesterday afternoon. The principle address was delivered by M. R. Trauerman, who gave a history of the organization of the Auditorium Company whose members are all Jews, and members of some secret order. In conclusion he said:

"Though this building is being erected by a Hebrew organization, I wish to emphatically say that the doors will be thrown open to every religious class, when it is finished, which will be not later than September 11."

Mr. Trauerman was followed by Simon Davis, H. C. Sirvan and Emanuel Lewis, who made short addresses. The copper box placed in the cornstone contained a silk American flag, coins of various dates, copies of the Pittsburgh papers, and a brief history of the Montefiore association. The building when finished will contain, in addition to the auditorium, a gymnasium, reading and lodge rooms and a well-appointed roof garden.

"Before and After."

It is generally admitted that "Before and After" is far superior in fun-producing qualities than "Are You a Mason?" which was written by the same author.

TARIFF REVISION CANNOT SUCCEED

Congressman Dalzell Confident New Englanders Will Fail to Get Changes.

CAUCUS EFFORT IS PUSHED

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The stand-pat element in the house of representatives apparently is not alarmed at the effort of the New England representatives to force a caucus of house Republicans on the subject of tariff revision. Yesterday the Massachusetts revisionists were busy discussing the project and on Tuesday there will be another meeting at which it is proposed to outline a plan of action.

This movement is headed by Representative McCall, who recently addressed a letter to Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee on the subject of tariff revision and was informed by Mr. Payne that there was no considerable sentiment among Republicans for a revision of the tariff at this time.

Mr. McCall and his Massachusetts colleagues are particularly interested in free hides, but they will not attempt to get a caucus on that schedule alone. Therefore they have agreed to take into camp all the members who for any reason are dissatisfied with the schedule of the present tariff law. The westerners are expected to come in and ask for a reduction of the duty on steel. Others will ask that the duty on Canadian wheat be revised. Any representative who wants any schedule changed is invited to take part in the movement.

John Dalzell's Opinion.

"I do not believe they will be able to get enough members to call a caucus," said Representative John Dalzell tonight, "and if they do, it will only result in their being promptly squelched. There is no room for doubt on this point. The sentiment in the house is overwhelmingly against revision of the tariff at this time, and if the New England members do not believe it they will be convinced if a caucus is held.

"Of course should there be a caucus and a majority should sit down on the proposition to change the tariff law, it would relieve the New England members of a great deal of worry. Their constituents would no longer press them to try to get revision and it is possible that such a plan would be to the benefit of these members. But if they are trying to have a caucus held with the idea of securing a majority vote in favor of revising the tariff, they will be greatly disappointed."

Westerners Would Hesitate.

To call a caucus of the Republican members of the house requires 50 signers. If every Republican representative from the six New England states should sign the call, then they could muster only 24 votes. It would be neseccary to get 26 signers from other parts of the country. Probably members who would personally like to see something done with the tariff now would hesitate to put themselves in opposition to the speaker and the leaders of the house by signing the call.

The ways and means committee does not seem to be disturbed by these rumors of the plans of the New Englanders. Cannon, Payne, Dalzell, Grosvenor, Tawney and all the leaders of the house are a unit on this question and by pulling together they will be able to withstand any attack, in all probability. The revisionists claim that though they may not muster a majority in the caucus, yet if they can once get a caucus on this question, they will be able to talk freely and show their colleagues that there really is revision sentiment in the country.

MONEY —IN— POULTRY

—AND— SQUABS.

The board of directors of the above company, before issuing any stock, have decided to take up the entire 78 building lots, five streets and two alleys composing the Geary farm at West View. It has been laid out in a plan, but not recorded, so that the place can be used as a farm. But at any future time that the company so elects it can be recorded and sold in building lots. Property adjoining sold last week for $450.00 per lot. This company will own valuable real estate right at your door—5c car fare—not some hidden mine thousands of miles away.

The main stockholders and officers are well-known Pittsburgh business people and property owners.

Mr. James Geary, the president and advertising manager, has been connected with Pickering's for over 12 years.

Dr. Jane Blanchard, the secretary and treasurer, has been in business here in Pittsburgh for over 13 years.

The company is now being incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania, which are the safest in the world, and insure every stockholder a square deal. The books under this charter must be open for inspection to any stockholder.

The company has been capitalized at $50,000.00—five thousand shares at $10.00 per share, fully paid up, non-assessable—no preferred stock, every share equal and worth $10.00.

We will have the Largest Poultry and Squab Plant in this section of the country. And to think this city must send to Philadelphia or Chicago for their squabs. No more after next July. We'll have our plant working. We have ordered 5,000 pairs imported Belgian Homer Pigeons. Our Poultry will be the White Wyandottes and White Plymouth Rocks. The feathers will pay us a big dividend, as we intend to put in our own feather renovator. Do you know that one-half the feathers used are from White fowl?

Call and have a chat with our manager, Mr. J. Lawrence Carney, office 442 Sixth avenue, daily from 9 to 5. Sunday on the farm. Take West View car, get off at flour mill—10 minutes' walk to Geary's place.

The Allegheny, Bakerstown and New Castle new street car line will pass our door.

Watch this paper for new daily talks on this money-making proposition.

Kidney troubles lame the back, so that every exertion or sudden twist sends a keen stab of pain through the loins and kidneys. Those paralyzing twinges are sure proof of trouble in the kidneys. Backache is but the dull throbbing of congested, inflamed kidneys. Headache, dizzy spells and languor are the effects of uric acid poisoning. Puffy swellings beneath the eyes, bloating of ankles and limbs, weak heart and rheumatic pains are due to inaction of the kidneys.

The kidneys are the filters of the blood. Their business is to remove the poisons and to pass them off in the urine, together with the watery waste from food and drink. If the kidneys are inactive, these poisons and this waste are left in the body, to do damage everywhere. The kidneys themselves become affected in time, and fall a prey to wasting diabetes or fatal Bright's disease.

It is best to give the kidneys help as soon as pain or uneasiness is felt in the small of the back or loins, or when any disorder of the urine is noticed. Rouse the kidneys from their fatal sleep. Cure them with Doan's Kidney Pills, the great modern kidney specific. No other remedy is so well adapted to the treatment of sick kidneys. It is purely vegetable and each element in it was chosen for its direct and beneficial action on the kidneys.

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

Fifty thousand people, representing every section of the United States, publicly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is testimony from this city.

PITTSBURGH TESTIMONY.

Mrs. W. Rauenbehler of 1829 Sarah St., South Side, Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "In the winter I suffered a great deal from pains in the back and the secretions from the kidneys were heavy, white and contained a good deal of mucus. Last winter while suffering from one of these attacks, I happened to see Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and began using them. They helped me from the start and I know of others who have experienced just as complete relief as I from the use of this remedy."

The above statement was made on August 26, 1897. Interviewed on May 18, 1904, almost seven years later, Mrs. Rauenbehler said: "The testimonial I gave seven years ago recommending Doan's Kidney Pills still stands good. I have had no reason to change my opinion of this remedy and you may continue to use my statement for publication."

DRINK GALLONS OF COLD WATER

Six of "Whiteline" Gang Keep Sergeant Lynch Busy Slaking Their Awful Thirst.

TAKE ALCOHOL STRAIGHT

"If there is any virtue in the water cure those fellows back here ought to know of it," said Sergeant Mike Lynch at Allegheny Central station last night. He referred to six prisoners in the lockup. They were all well known characters, and about city hall are known as the "white-liners." This name is applied to those who drink alcohol instead of other mild beverages, and there is a little colony of them who loaf all summer in the parks. During the winter they are either in the Diamond square or the work-house. The police picked up this half dozen last evening.

The observation dropped by the venerable Sergeant Mike was called forth by the frequent demands made by the prisoners for water.

"Those fellows have been in here five hours now, and among them they have swallowed 11 gallons of water. I often noticed that these "white-liners" consume large quantities of water, so when they came in tonight I decided to count the quarts. They seem to drink a big tinful of water just as you would a mouthful, and then they ask for another. I asked one how he could drink so much water on a cold night and he said he was hot inside. I guess they are feverish from drinking alcohol.

"It is hard to believe these fellows can down that stuff straight and not die within a short time, but there are two or three of those back there who have been doing it for years. They declare it is much better than the bad whisky they can get for 10 cents a drink, and besides it is much cheaper. They go into a drug store or a paint store and buy a pint of alcohol. They put it into a quart bottle and fill it up with water. This makes a quart of stuff that will bring about total oblivion for almost 24 hours. Often they can't wait until they get to the pump in the park to get the water, and just drink the alcohol undiluted. This produces a fearful jag, but it seldom kills these fellows.

"When a man gets into the "white-liner class he is on the last slide towards destruction. He gets a sentence to the workhouse that often works as a life saver for he recuperates during his 60 or 90 days total abstinence. We have one chap in here who has been in the workhouse 104 times, and he can drink more alcohol than any of the "white-liners." He is famous among them and is really admired for his prowess in this respect. One day he was doing some painting for one of the city officials, and failing to find any alcohol to mix into his paints he got a bottle of turpentine. While he was at work the thirst came upon him and because he could find nothing better he took a draught of turpentine. He told me afterward the stuff never hurt him a bit, but it did not produce the delightful sensation that follows indulgence in alcohol.

"I hope Magistrate Hatfield is more severe with these fellows than Abernathey, for they have got insolent from being invariably discharged when they faced the judge in the morning."

MRS. FISKE'S SOUL REVOLTS OVER ACT OF CRUELTY TO RABID CANINES

Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske, the actress, is a lover of dogs, her affection for the lowly and downtrodden canine being as overweening as for the high-born patrician which lies in miladi's luxurious lap. In consequence, when Mrs. Fiske read, during her recent engagement in Pittsburgh, of a rather unusual method resorted to in Connellsville in putting a supposedly mad dog to death, she went hot with indignation, and the following communication to The Gazette is the result:

A great man has said: "This world is scarcely a fit place for decent men and women." When we hear that a posse of grown men the other day destroyed a supposedly mad dog by burning it alive in a furnace, we are inclined to think there is considerable truth in the great man's opinion. From Connellsville, Pa., comes the news that a "mad dog," running amuck in the Dunbar Creek valley, attacking human beings and animals, was captured and destroyed in the manner described.

A dog's so-called madness is usually the result of starvation, thirst, sickness or exposure. Human beings have been known to become insane from hunger and thirst. Whether or not this Connellsville dog's madness was the result of any of these causes does not alter the fact that the animal should have been put to death. It was proper that the dog should be killed, but was it not disgraceful to burn it alive in a furnace? Why an act so cowardly, so shamefully inhuman?

Respectfully yours,
MINNIE MADDERN FISKE.

The Death Roll

Mrs. Martha J. Chambers.

Mrs. Martha J. Chambers, widow of Alexander Chambers, died at her residence on Fifth avenue, Shadyside, at 5 p. m. yesterday, after a lingering and painful illness. She was born near this city, March 8, 1825. She was the eldest daughter of William H. and Olevia (Carroll) Wightman, her mother being a lineal decendant of Daniel Carroll of Duddington, and her father the son of William Wightman, of cultured Scotch-Irish ancestry, who made his home south of the Monongahela river, in what was then Westmoreland county soon after Braddock's defeat, where after patriotic service in revolutionary times, he became a large landowner, an influential citizen, especially in educational affairs, and was one of the organizers and a member of the first session of Levanon Presbyterian church. TO SUE COMMISSIONERS AFTER THE DEPOSIT CASE

Attorney General Carson Will Try to Collect Actuary Fees When He Finishes With the P. R. R.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, April 1.—Attorney General Carson will bring suit against former Commissioners Luper, Lambert and Durham and other attaches of the insurance department of Pennsylvania for the recovery of $200,000 in actuary's fees paid them by Robert H. Forster of Philadelphia as soon as he has instituted proceedings against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company on the $10 mileage book deposit.

The proposed suits against these former officials of the insurance department has been delayed by the absence of Mr. Forster, who has been in Florida on official business for the department and on whose testimony the attorney general relies to prove his contention that these fees belong to the state.

Gov. Pennypacker regards it as a very close question as to whether these fees belong to the state or to the actuary and for the purpose of settling it he had advised the attorney general to go ahead with his suits and push them to the limit.

It never disappoints. Pilene positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

WILLIAM CAMPBELL

This Store Enters Monday, April 2d, upon the celebration of its

THIRTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

just as full of Life, Vigor and Enthusiasm as at the beginning, and intends to fittingly commemorate during the balmy month of April the Anniversary of the founding of this business.

35 years ago the name "CAMPBELL" first appeared over a Drygoods Store—a much smaller affair than the Campbell's of today, but a good healthy beginning.

This store was not born great; neither did it have greatness thrust upon it—it GREW great. It assumed a position of leadership because of the principles it established at the beginning—a platform that we today would not alter nor disturb one iota. It has been the foundation that has carried this store through pleasant weather as well as when the clouds gathered:

To be Earnest, Truthful and Honest—always.
To Sell only Goods of Dependable Character.
To Prove conclusively and beyond any question Our Prices to be the Lowest.
To eliminate Errors to the Fullest Possible Extent.
To Satisfy Every Customer with Every Purchase.
To Improve each day and each week in Method and System.
To Make every Employe feel that he or she is a Factor in the Progress of this Business.
To build this Business for the Future as well as the Present.

So—to celebrate the measure of success already attained—to make you feel as we do: that we're glad we're here—

We invite everyone within the confines of this city and from the neighboring towns to come Monday, April 2d, or at their earliest convenience, and co-operate in this Anniversary event—intended to exemplify the aims, the resources, the usefulness and the principles which have made "Campbell" synonymous with "Dependable Goods at Lowest Prices."

You will be made welcome whether you come to purchase or not, and every means will be adopted to make your visit one of comfort, pleasure and profit.

PRICES FLUCTUATE, BUT MOVE TO HIGHER LEVELS

Satisfactory Progress Made in the Professional Movement Inaugurated in Wall Street—Advancement in Face of Adverse News a Feature.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—So far as speculative stocks are concerned, the professional movement inaugurated in Wall street a fortnight ago made satisfactory progress during the week. Prices fluctuated irregularly, with days of strength alternating with days of weakness or partial weakness, but at the close of the interval stocks had moved to a higher price level, and did so in the face of an unsatisfactory monetary situation and despite some really unfavorable news developments, such as the rupture between the operators and mine workers in the anthracite and bituminous coal fields.

Persons who judge a speculative market superficially, holding it good or bad, strong or weak, solely as prices advance or decline, were naturally much elated over the price enhancement, holding that an advance in prices in the face of adverse news was a clear indication that no false start had been made and that the promises for the expected bull movement were bright. Other persons, with a full knowledge of the developments and tendencies on looking beneath the surface, gave as their opinion that the enhancement was merely an incident in a manipulative campaign which determined actually nothing of the future of the market.

It is always interesting to watch a stock market campaign, and particularly in its inception, when all energy is bent upon causing a sentiment favorable to higher prices. This never appears to be a very difficult matter with the professional element, provided there is nothing radically wrong in the situation. The professional buys as readily as he sells and having no particular pride of opinion becomes a bull or a bear with equal facility. The trading houses, particularly such as are on the other end of the manipulator's private telephone or telegraph wire, but who to suit the purpose of the game pose as "commission houses," can be changed by a wink or a nod, or more effectually than either by a bunch of orders. This is clearly enough indicated by the way they bolt their "bullish" of "bearish" literature of one week, for "bearish" or "bullish" literature the next.

Not one with the slightest knowledge of speculative markets but realizes that the recovery in the market of the week was not due to news developments. One may minimize the influence of an unsatisfactory money market as he will by the statement that its ingent tendencies are due solely to the extensive April disbursements, that it will speedily pass away, that with the Moroccan settlement Europe may be expected to extend credit lavishly or even ship gold. That may all come true, and yet the fact remains that the subtreasury drain continues, that funds do not flow back from the interior to any such degree as was expected and that credit is widely expanded. All these things may pass away, to be true, and the monetary position improve, but the fact remains that up to the present time it has undergone no material improvement since the first week in January.

Every indication is that the market will remain firm for some weeks.

MARKET WAS INACTIVE, BUT PRICES STILL FIRM

Spring Only Will Relieve the Situation and Reduce Prices. Potatoes Still Soaring.

There were few changes in the market Saturday, because it was the last day of the week. In the morning the supply was good, but in the afternoon little was done. The few changes that were made have an upward tendency. A week or two ago onions were almost a drug on the market, but they are getting stiffer again, and yesterday they took another advance, due to the late spring.

California navels are stiffer and yesterday advanced 50 cents on the box. This is still not the high-water mark for this fruit. Tangerines disappeared entirely from the market and, while a few are still to be got, they are no longer quoted or carried by the Liberty street merchants.

Rhubarb went up a few points, as did turnips. The latter will probably not recover and will continue to advance in price. Potatoes are still advancing and yesterday the best quality brought 90 cents. This is nearing the price set by The Gazette a few days ago, when it predicted that potatoes would reach the $1 mark. New cabbage is starting to arrive regularly from southern states and will probably get cheaper from this time on.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts,

Receipts bulletined yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 17 cars hay, 6 cars oats, 5 cars corn, 1 car straw, 1 car feed. Baltimore & Ohio, 4 cars hay, 1 car oats, 1 car corn. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 7 cars hay and 1 car oats.

The market continues firm and active. Several times during the week there was a scarcity and this has had a tendency to force the prices upward. This condition will exist as long as country roads are impassable. Advices from the west are that no deliveries may be expected on account of bad roads, but as soon as weather permits the market will be relieved.

RESTRICTED SCALE ON THE LONDON EXCHANGE

Cheerful Opening of Week Followed by Paralysis Caused by Government Blunders.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, April 1.—There is nothing but the same old story to tell. Business on the stock exchange continues on a very restricted scale, and as in a few days the Easter holidays will be beginning, it is to be expected that there will be nothing doing for some time to come.

In fact, even the most optimistic are now of the opinion that there can hardly be a change for the better within the next month or two; that is to say, before the advent of summer.

The week opened rather cheerfully, owing to the more cheerful prospect regarding a satisfactory settlement at Algeciras. But what both Liberal and Conservative members of the house alike characterise as a stupendous blunder of the government in interfering in so highhanded a manner with the rights of the Natal government and bringing about the resignation of its cabinet. Even though Lord Elgin has climbed down since, simply paralyzed the house, and brought business to a standstill with a jerk. And then, as the labor question overshadowed all other matters in the American market, prices kept swaying one way or the other as rumors were favorable or otherwise.

Notwithstanding all the cheering reports regarding the settlement of the Moroccan affair, there is hardly any change to record in the prices of leading European securities, as, for instance, French, German, Austro-Hungarian and Italian rentes, though Greeks have moved up a bit.

Japanese issues continue to absorb most of the interest in London and show some improvement, and several Chinese issues have also improved in price, but the Russian series of bonds have fallen one-half lower than the previous week.

In the South American section, Argentines have improved somewhat, while an unusual degree of interest has been manifested in Chileans, prices having gone up from one-half to one all around.

Though the gain to the British railway traffic was considerably added to by gains for the last week, as compared with last year, the market continued to show little or no interest, and the variations that were chronicled during the week were merely the result of the buying and selling of different stocks, and therefore of no importance.

FIRE THREATENS TOWN.

Dillonvale, West Virginia, Appeals to Wheeling for Aid, Much Property Destroyed.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 1.—At midnight a message from Dillonvale, a mining town of the first importance in Jefferson county, Ohio, 20 miles northwest of here, states a fire is raging there and has already inflicted $100,000 damages. The Erskine department stores, a three-story block, Mercer's drug store and several other buildings have been wiped out, and the fire is threatening the entire town.

Mayor Ewing appealed to this city for an engine, but before one could be placed aboard the train the request was countermanded and the announcement was made that the fire was under control. The loss is estimated at about $50,000.

Mrs. Zeisler Has Recovered.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Mrs. Fanny Blumfield Zeisler, the noted pianist, who was compelled several weeks ago, owing to impaired health, to abandon the concert work in which she was engaged and leave Chicago, to seek rest, returned today from Colorado Springs, Col., and announced her complete recovery from what her physician declared to be a case of nervous prostration.

Fire Destroys Frame Dwelling.

Shortly after midnight fire totally destroyed a two-story frame dwelling house owned by James Kennedy in Grace street, Thirty-second Ward. The house was unoccupied. The origin of the fire and loss is unknown.

It never disappoints. Pilene positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

In the Oil Fields

It is the opinion of every operator who has had occasion to visit the southwest fields recently that the roads are now in the worst condition ever experienced. As an illustration of the difficulty experienced in getting material to the field, it requires six teams of horses to haul a boiler to the field, and then it can be moved only a few miles in a day. If the haul is long the cost of hauling is almost as much as the first cost of the machinery.

There is but one active development in the lower southwest that is attracting attention. In that district, operators are anxious to start new work and are meeting the extra expense. It is the new Keener sand pool on Point Pleasant creek, Tyler county. In all probability the producing area of this development will be small and those holding leases on territory inside of the present and prospective limits of the producing territory realize that if they can expect to get a share of the production, it will be necessary to drill at once that their base lines may be protected. The wells all flow and it is quite likely that the producing sand will be impoverished in a short time. The first six wells completed show very creditable staying qualities, but as the number of wells increase in the pool the production is expected to decline and the later wells expected to be comparatively light. By the end of the month there will probably be 50 or 75 wells drilling in the new pool. As yet there have been no completions that would condemn an extension of the production from the wells now producing. There have been some dry holes completed, somewhat remote from the development, but this was years ago when it was thought that they condemned the territory that is now the stellar attraction in the lower southwest.

The Berea grit field, near Woodsfield, in Monroe county, is less active and the size of the late wells much smaller than two months ago. In the old Lewisville district, in the same county, quite recently some very good wells have been found in the Keener formation and they have inspired some new work. In the old Island Creek field, in Jefferson county, there is a little extension that is furnishing some very nice producers and has stimulated new work. During the week three completions in that development show for an average of 25 barrels a day. In Harrison county, a well was completed during the week, located six miles south of Cadiz, that will make a small pumper from the Berea grit and may open the way to a new pool.

Southeast of Mansfield, near Butler, in Richland county, there are several wells nearing the sand and when drilled in should furnish some valuable information as to what can be expected of the white oil pool. Three producing wells have been completed, but all are located on a small acreage and do not furnish much information as to what may be the limits of the producing territory. The first well was regarded as a freak, but the two additional producers have in a slight degree removed the imputation. The McCandless & Co. gusher on the Rose farm at Petersville, in Butler county, has stopped flowing. When drilled in it started to do business at the rate of 40 barrels an hour and caused quite a commotion for a few days. Then salt water got into the well and it stopped flowing. Notwithstanding the well flunked, there is some new work under way and more starting in the vicinity of the gusher.

IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE

BY EMILE GABORIAU

Author of "THE MYSTERY OF ORCIVAL," "FILE NO. 113," Etc.

As M. Magloire and M. Folgat passed through the crowd they listened to these remarks with great satisfaction: despite all the assertions to the contrary, public opinion, will always find an echo in court; and, more frequently than we think, public opinion dictates the verdict of the jury. "And now," said M. Magloire to his young colleague, "now we may be certain, I know Sauveterre by heart. I tell you public opinion is henceforth on our side."

By dint of perseverance they had just made their way out of the court, when one of the ushers stopped them, saying that the prisoner's family wished to see them in M. Mechinet's office, where the Marchioness de Boiscoran had been carried, when she was taken ill. There indeed it was that MM. Magloire and Folgat found Jacques' mother reclining in an easy-chair, with closed eyes and parted lips. Her livid pallor and her stiff limbs gave her a deathlike aspect; but, from time to time, spasms shook her whole body, from head to foot. M. de Chandore stood on one side, and the marquis, her husband, on the other, watching her with mournful eyes and in perfect silence. They seemed thunderstruck; indeed from the moment when the fatal sentence fell upon their ears, neither of them had uttered a word. Denise alone seemed to have preserved the faculty of reasoning and the power of motion. But her face was well-nigh purple, while her dry eyes shone with a painful light, and her body shook as with fever.

As soon as the two advocates appeared, she cried to them—"And you call this human justice?" Finding they did not reply—she added—"Here is Jacques condemned to hard labor; that is to say, judicially dishonored, lost, disgraced, forever cut off from human society. He is innocent; but that does not matter. His best friends will know him no longer; no hand will touch his hand hereafter; and even those who were most proud of his affection will pretend to have forgotten his name."

"I understand your grief but too well, mademoiselle," said M. Magloire.

"My grief is not as great as my indignation," she retorted. "Jacques must be avenged, and he shall be avenged! I am only 26, and he is not 30 yet; we can devote the life before us to his rehabilitation; for I do not mean to abandon him. His undeserved misfortunes make him a thousand times dearer to me. I was his betrothed this morning; this evening I am his wife. His condemnation was our nuptial benediction. And if it is true, as grandpapa says, that the laws prohibit a prisoner to marry the woman he loves, well, I will be his without marriage."

Denise spoke so loud that it seemed she wanted all the world to hear what she was saying.

"Ah, let me reassure you by a single word, mademoiselle,' said M. Folgat. "We have not yet come to that. The sentence is not final."

The Marquis de Boiscoran and M. de Chandore started. "What do you mean?"

"An oversight which M. Galpin has committed makes the whole proceedings null and void. You will ask how a man of his character, so painstaking and so formal, should have made such a blunder. Probably because he was blinded by passion. Why has nobody noticed this oversight? Because fate owed us this compensation. There can be no question about the matter. The defect is a defect of form; and the law provides expressly for the case. The sentence must be declared void, and we shall have another trial."

"And you never told us anything of it!" exclaimed Denise.

"We hardly dared to think of it," replied M. Magloire. "It was one of those secrets which we dared not confide to our own pillows. Remember that, in the course of the proceedings, the error might have been corrected at any time. Now it is too late. We have time before us, and the conduct of the Count da Claudieuse relieves us from all restraint of delicacy. The veil should be torn aside now."

He was interrupted by the opening of the door. Red with anger, and darting fiery glances from over his gold spectacles, Dr. Seignebos darted into the room. "And the Count de Claudieuse?" asked M. Folgat, eagerly.

"He is in the room close by," replied the doctor; "They have laid him on a mattress, and his wife is by his side. What a profession ours is! Here is a man, a wretch, whom I should be most happy to strangle with my own hands; and I am compelled to do all I can to recall him to life; I must lavish my attentions upon him, and have to seek every means to relieve his sufferings."

"Is he any better?"

"Not at all! Unless a special miracle should be performed on his behalf, he will only leave the court house feet forward, and that in 24 hours. I have not concealed it from the countess; and I have told her, that, if she wishes her husband to die in peace with heaven, she has only just time to send for a priest."

"And had she sent for one?"

"Not at all! She told me her husband would be terrified by the appearance of a priest, that it would hasten his end. Even when the good priest from Brechy came of his own accord, she sent him off unceremoniously."

"Ah, the miserable woman!" cried Denise. And, after a moment's reflection, she added, as if speaking to herself, "And yet that may be our salvation. Yes, certainly. Why should I hesitate? Wait for me here; I shall soon be back."

She hurriedly left the room. Her grandfather was about to follow her; but M. Folgat stopped him. "Let her go," he said, "let her do what she wishes!"

It had just struck 10 o'clock. The Sauveterre court house, but a few minutes previous as full and as noisy as a beehive, was now silent and deserted. In the immense waiting hall, badly lighted by a smoky lamp, there were two men to be seen. One was the priest from Brechy, who was praying on his knees close to a door; the other was one of the official attendants who walked slowly to and fro. Denise went toward the latter. "Where is the Count de Claudieuse?" she asked.

"There, mademoiselle," replied the man, pointing to the door before which the priest was praying, "there, in the public prosecutor's private office."

"Who is with him?"

"His wife, mademoiselle, and a servant."

"Well, go in and tell the Countess de Claudieuse—but so that her husband does not hear you—that Mademoiselle de Chandore desires to see her for a few moments."

The attendant made no objection, and went in. Quickly returning, he exclaimed, "Madame, the countess sends word that she cannot leave her husband, who is very weak."

Denise stopped him by an impatient gesture. "Never mind! Go back and tell the countess that, if she does not come out, I shall go in this moment; that, if it must be, I shall force my way in; that I shall call for help; that nothing will keep me away, for I must absolutely see her."

"But, mademoiselle."

"Go! Don't you see that it is a matter of life and death?"

There was such authority in her voice, that the attendant no longer hesitated, but went out once more, and appeared a moment after, telling her to enter. She did so, and found herself in a little anteroom which preceded the public prosecutor's private office. A large lamp stood on the table. The door leading to the chamber in which the count was lying was closed. In the center of the anteroom stood the Countess de Claudieuse. All these successive blows had not broken her indomitable energy. She looked pale, but calm. "Since you insist upon it, mademoiselle," she began, "I come to tell you myself that I cannot listen to you. Are you not aware that I am standing between two open graves—that of my poor girl, who is dying at my house, and that of my husband, who is breathing his last in there?"

She stepped back as if to retire; but Denise stopping her by a threatening look, exclaimed, in a trembling voice: "If you go back into that room where your husband is, I shall follow you, and I shall speak before him. I shall ask you, in his presence, how you dare order a priest away from his bedside at the moment of death, and whether, after having robbed him of all his happiness in life, you mean to make him unhappy in all eternity."

Instinctively the countess drew back again. "I do not understand you," she said.

"Yes, you do understand me, madam. Why deny it? Do you not see that I know everything, and that I have guessed what they have not told me? Jacques was your lover, and your husband has had his revenge."

"Ah!" cried the countess, "that is too much; that is too much!"

"And you permitted it," continued Denise, with breathless haste; "and you did not come and cry out in open court that your husband was a false witness! What a woman you must be! You do not care if your love carries a poor unfortunate man to the galleys. You mean to live on with the thought in your heart that the man whom you love is innocent, and, nevertheless, disgraced forever, and cut off from human society. A priest might induce the count to retract his statement, as you know very well; hence you refuse to let the priest from Brechy come to his bedside. And what is the end and aim of all your crimes? To save your false reputation as an honest woman. Ah! how miserable, how mean, how infamous!"

The countess was roused at last. What all M. Folgat's skill and ability had not been able to accomplish, Denise obtained in an instant by the force of her passion. Throwing aside her mask, Madame de Claudieuse exclaimed, with a perfect burst of rage. "Well, then, no, no! I have not acted so and permitted all this to happen because I care for my reputation. My reputation!—what does it matter? Only a week ago, when Jacques succeded in escaping from prison, I offered to fly with him. He had only to say a word, and I would have given up my family, my children, my country, everything, for him. He answered, 'Rather the galleys!'"

REVOLUTION IS PROPOSED.

Claimed Plans Are Being Perfected in This Country for the Annihilation of Castro.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The World tomorrow will say: "One of the largest merchants in New York said last night that arrangements are being perfected here and in Paris and London for a revolution in Venezuela which will annihilate Castro and open up that country to American capital and enterprise.

"A number of rich New York merchants are said to be interested in the movement, which, the promoters declare, will involve the employment of 15,000 soldiers and the expenditure of $5,000,000 in the campaign. President Castro, if the plans do not go astray, is to be either expelled or destroyed, and a native Venezuelan states he is to be installed as his successor."

FIRE FIGHTERS PRESENT GIFT TO SCANDRETT

Director Thomas B. Scandrett of the Allegheny department of public safety, was presented with a silver tea service last night by the members of the North Side fire bureau. Chief John K. Hunter telephoned to the director's residence and asked him to stop at No. 6 engine house in Sandusky street. When Scandrett arrived Chief Hunter addressed him in behalf of the men of the bureau. He expressed the esteem in which the director was held by the fire fighters and hoped the good fellowship would be continued. Director Scandrett in a short speech expressed his appreciation of the testimonial.

BRENNEN BEARS UP VERY WELL

But Hundreds of Other Democrats Don't Conceal Disappointment Over Cabinet.

CIVICS TO TAKE CARD DOWN

The announcement of the appointments to be made by Mayor-elect Guthrie after his inauguration today was like a thunderbolt to the Democrats. The leaders of the party had been informed, of course, that all the members of the new mayor's cabinet were to be independent Republicans, but hundreds of members of the party, not necessarily office-seekers, either, had hoped that the newspaper reports of Mr. Guthrie's intentions were exaggerated.

The Democratic leaders held themselves well in hand, however. William J. Brennen did not attempt to conceal the fact that he would have liked it better if Mr. Guthrie had appointed a Democrat or two, but he realized that Mr. Guthrie's election means the application of a theory of municipal administration absolutely new in practice in Pittsburgh.

"What do you think of Mr. Guthrie's cabinet?" Mr. Brennen was asked. He thought for a moment and then said, deliberately:

"I would have been better pleased if the Democratic party had been recognized by Mr. Guthrie in his appointments as the party expected to be, and as it should have been. If I were mayor the appointments would have been different, I have no hesitancy in saying. But Mr. Guthrie is a man who has his own ideas, his own belief as to the way in which a municipal administration should be conducted. He was elected without a single pledge. In making his appointments he is doing what he, no doubt, considers for the best. The more than 20,000 Democrats who voted for Mr. Guthrie hope that his administration will be a success."

In view of Mr. Guthrie's declarations that city employes will not be removed for political reasons a notice that appears on the inside door of the Civic party's headquarters is causing comment. It is a good deal similar to notices that appeared when the retiring city administration came into power. The card in question notified applicants for municipal positions that their applications, to be considered by the Civic party's committee, must be indorsed by the ward chairman and handed in in duplicate. If there are to be no dismissals of city employes except under civil service rules, it is not understood why any applicants for vacancies must have the indorsement of the Civic party. In view of Mr. Guthrie's declaration it is believed that the notice will come off the door today, for Civics, Democrats and Independent Republicans who supported the mayor-elect have come to the conclusion that he means what he says about civil service.

Roger O'Mara, former superintendent of police and detectives, has made application to Mr. Guthrie for appointment to the police magistracy of the Central police station. That place pays $2,500 a year, while the other four similar places are worth only $2,000. O'Mara draws $1,500 a year from the police pension fund and will not be obliged to sacrifice that plum by re-entering the municipal service as a police magistrate.

Bullet Through His Cheek.

Frank Reinhart of No. 323 North Neville street was cleaning a 38-caliber revolver at his home yesterday morning when the weapon slipped from his hand and fell to the floor. The revolver exploded, the bullet passing through his left cheek and knocking out several teeth. Dr. J. H. McClelland of Fifth and Wilkins avenues, dressed the man's injuries.

JEWS GIVE FOR JAPANESE.

Reform Congregation Rodeph Shalom Makes a Generous Contribution for the Famine Sufferers.

To assist in the relief of the famine sufferers in northern Japan, a collection amounting to $312.05 was taken up yesterday morning at the service of the Reform Congregation Rodeph Shalom at Carnegie hall, Allegheny. The lecture by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy, was the twenty-first of the fifth series and was entitled "A Criticism of the Congregation." It was in the nature of an anniversary address, Rabbi Levy having come to Pittsburgh five years ago yesterday.

He accused the modern congregation, of whatsoever denomination, of lack of sympathy with the aims and ideals of their chosen minister, with indulging in puerile criticism; a lack of consideration, and in many cases, of arant hypocrisy in expecting the minister to live by one standard of religion while the congregation has another.

Dr. Levy referred to the fact that it was the fifth anniversary of his coming to Pittsburgh and he told his congregation, that as a church body, he considered them a praiseworthy example to Greater Pittsburgh and an inspiration to every Jewish congregation throughout the country. He spoke of how nobly the congregation has supported every local and national Jewish and charitable institution and has also aided local and general non-Jewish philanthropic movements. With all of the advance that has been made in the five years, he said he was not content, for with his ideal of what a minister and a congregation should be he was not easily satisfied. In closing he said:

I am grateful, overburdened with a sense of my own unworthiness; but I am not content and shall not be until every man, woman and child connected with this congregation is so living that through them the name of God is glorified and the name of Israel is honored."

PRINCE OF INDIA ARRIVES.

Requires Two Trains to Transport Enormous Production to This City.

"The Prince of India" company arrived from Chicago last evening in two special trains. The first train, carrying the scenery and props, was composed of eight 60-foot baggage cars. The second section, was composed of two 60-foot baggage cars, carrying the personal baggage of the company, and three day coaches and three Pullmans, carrying the members of the company, which numbered 106 with the working staff.

The production is so massive that it will require the combined forces of the theater and the company, together with the transfer people, to have the set pieces and properties in the theater by morning. Many of the members of the company were greeted at the station by friends. The company includes many Pittsburgh favorites, Sarah Truax, William Farnum, J. E. Dodson, William Beach, Sidney Herbert, Gerald Lawrence and Julie Herne.

CONTRACTS DISEASE WHILE HELPING OTHERS

DERBY, CONN., April 1.—(Special.)—Blood poisoning, contracted from a woman patient, killed Dr. Roscius Y. Downs, a prominent Ansonia physician, today. Dr. Downs was not taken ill until last night, and he died early this morning. The poison, in an unknown manner, gathered in one lung, bursting and causing an agonizing death by suffocation. The woman from whom he took the fatal malady, is recovering.

THE GAZETTE PATTERN.

(No. 5155.) Ladies' Kimono.

In this design for a kimono, we have an excellent model that is very easily followed. The long drooping shoulder lends an air of qualntness to the garment, and a girdle may confine the fullness at the waist, but that is optional, as many prefer the long loose front. The inexpensive materials are as well adapted to this making as the most costly fabrics. A twelve and one-half cent figured lawn will make up charmingly. As illustrated cream white crepe cloth was used trimmed with Persian bands. The medium size requires seven and seven-eighth yards of 27-inch material.

TRADE WITH MEXICO INCREASING GREATLY

United States Sent $92,000,000 Worth of Products into Diaz's Country in 1905.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—A bulletin issued by the department of commerce and labor shows that the trade of the United States with Mexico in the fiscal year 1905 aggregated in value $92,000,000, as compared with $31,000,000 in 1895, and $18,000,000 in 1885. Of Mexico's total imports of merchandise, 53 per cent is drawn from the United States, and of her total exports, 71 per cent is sent to the United States.

No other country except India draws as large a percentage of its imports from the United States as does Mexico, and no other country except Cuba sends as large a percentage of its exports to the United States as does Mexico. Estimates made by American consular representatives and others, and by persons in the United States familiar with the subject, the bulletin says, indicate that fully a billion of dollars from this country is now invested in Mexico, Canada and Cuba, of which about one-half is in Mexico.

Imports from Mexico of sisal grass in 1905 amounted to nearly $15,000,000 and of copper in various shapes to over $15,000,000. The coper is brought here for smelting and refining processes and the extraction of the metal it contains. Iron and steel manufacturers exported to Mexico in 1905 aggregated over $12,000,000 out of a total of $45,000,000 of exports.

CANDIDATES ARRESTED BECAUSE TOO LIBERAL

Russian Elections Marked by Repression of Voters and Prohibition of Speeches.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ODESSA, April 1.—On the eve of the preliminary elections among the workmen of 66 factories all the 66 candidates were arrested because they displayed too liberal tendencies, and the authorities directed the voters to choose other candidates belonging to the reactionary parties.

Prof. Ivan Michaelovitch Kanhevsky, rector of the university here, will be placed on trial before the senate. He is charged with organizing the student militia which defended the Jews during the massacre last November.

Governor General Kaulbars has prohibited all election meetings, alleging that he fears disorders might result.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 1.—Tomorrow the city of St. Petersburg will chose electors to the municipal congress, which in turn will elect six members to the national parliament. Many rumors are afloat to the effect that the revolutionists intend to create disorders and to throw bombs in the polling places with the purpose of discrediting the elections, but the authorities declare that nothing of the sort will take place.

The close of the campaign was marked by great activity and considerable excitement, but these did not compare with the scenes at American political meetings. Speeches were prohibited, but hundreds of thousands of circulars were mailed to voters. The newspapers are filled with appeals to the voters.

A VINDICATION FOR DR. PIERCE

Decision by the Supreme Court of New York State, Against the Ladies' Home Journal,

A verdict has been rendered in favor of the plaintiff in the libel suit brought against the Ladies' Home Journal (published by the Curtis Publishing Company) by the WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, of which DR. R. V. PIERCE is President.

The suit was brought by Dr. Pierce against the Curtis Publishing Co. for making false statements about one of his standard family medicines, known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In the May number of the Ladies' Home Journal (1904), Mr. Edward Bok, the editor, stated that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients, and Dr. Pierce had in the action alleged the defendant maliciously published this article containing such false and defamatory matter. Dr. Pierce further claimed that no alcohol is, or ever was, contained in his "Favorite Prescription;" that said medicine was a vegetable preparation and contained no deleterious ingredients whatever; that Mr. Bok's statement pretending to give some of the ingredients of said medicine was wholly and absolutely false. During the trial, the Vice-President of the World's Dispensary Medical Association stated that the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription were extracted from the following native roots: Golden Seal, Blue Cohosh, Lady's Slipper, Black Cohosh and Unicorn, by means of pure glycerine. He was asked how he knew, as a physician and experienced medical man, that the "Favorite Prescription" was a cure for the diseases peculiar to women, such as leucorrhoea, irregularities, weak back, "female weakness," amenorrhoea, dysmenorrhoea and misplacements, and he stated that he knew such was the fact because of his professional experience and the many thousands of women whose ills had been cured by this "Prescription." This experience was corroborated by the standard Medical Authorities of the several schools of medicine indorsing the various ingredients in the strongest terms. The Vice-President, being asked to give his authorities, read from the standard works, such as the United States Dispensatory; The American Dispensatory; Organic Medicines, by Grover Coe, M. D.; Materia Medica and Therapeutics, by Professor Finley Ellingwood of the Bennett Medical College of Chicago; "New Remedies" by Professor Edwin M. Hale, M. D.; Text-Book of Practical Therapeutics, by Dr. Hobart A. Hare, Professor in University of Pennsylvania; Laurence Johnson, M. D., Professor University of New York; Professor John King, Author of Woman and Her Diseases; Wm. Paine, M. D., Author of New School Practice of Medicine; Professor John M. Scudder, M. D., Author of a treatise on "The Diseases of Women;" Horatio C. Wood, M. D., Author of Therapeutics; Roberts Bartholow, A. M., M. D., Professor of Materia Medica, Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia.

The retraction printed by the Curtis Publishing Co. two months after the libelous statement appeared stated definitely that analyses had been made at their request and that the "Favorite Prescription" did not contain either alcohol, opium or digitalis. But the business of Dr. Pierce was injured from the effects of the publication of the original libel and the matter was brought before a jury in the Supreme Court of New York state to determine the damages, which were given by the Jury at $15,000.

Busybodies who see in success only falsity, who, without making any effort to inform themselves, blatantly cry offense against honesty and truth—seem to forget that a slur against Dr. Pierce's well-known non-alcoholic family remedies is a slur against the intelligence of thousands of clear-thinking American women who know they have been helped and cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is not a "patent medicine" in the true meaning of the word—it is simply the favorite remedy which Dr. Pierce used in an extended practice for the treatment of the diseases of women.

TRUTH AND INFLUENCE.

A name for honesty and square dealing is better than great riches. Fraud is a bubble that soon bursts. Dr. R. V. Pierce has always been known to speak the truth—his famous medicines are founded on the rock of public approval and have thousands of truthful testimonials as to their ability to cure diseases for which they are recommended.

TRUE SPEAKING.

No man ever lost a prospective customer through telling the truth. In the long run Dr. Pierce believes the truth will prevail and he is therefore not afraid to make public the ingredients of his "Favorite Prescription," which are:

GOLDEN SEAL ROOT (Hydrastis Canadensis).

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., says: "It stimulates the digestive processes, and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched. * * * * The consequent improvement on the nervous and glandular systems are natural results." He continues: "In relation to its general effect on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett College, Chicago, says of Golden Seal: "In its therapeutic (remedial) influence its widest range of action is upon the stomach, in functional disorders of that organ, where the entire apparatus, including the liver is stagnant and inoperative. It is a most superior remedy in catarrhal gastritis (inflammation of the stomach), chronic constipation, general debility, in convalescence from protracted fevers, in prostrating night-sweats. It is an important remedy in disorders peculiar to women. In all catarrhal conditions, especially if there be muscular relaxation and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. Roberts Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, says of Golden Seal: "Valuable in uterine hemorrhage (flooding), menorrhagia (profuse menstruation), and congestive dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation). Locally good in leucorrhoea, ulceration and erosion of the cervix (neck of uterus), unhealthy and sloughing sores and ulcers of the leg."

From the foregoing extracts it will be seen that Golden Seal root is a very efficient curative agent in most of the weaknesses and ailments affecting the organs peculiarly feminine. But there are several other unsurpassed remedial agents for the cure of woman's maladies found growing in the forests of this blessed land of ours, and these Dr. Pierce knew to be of such great efficacy as to make it advisable to combine them in just the right proportions, with the Golden Seal root, in making up the compound known as his "Favorite Prescription." Thus, he believes he has produced the most happy combination of the most valuable remedial agencies known to modern medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar weakness and maladies. He feels that the professional indorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of practice will be found to amply justify him in the use of this strong language.

BLACK COHOSH ROOT (Cimicifuga Racemosa).

Prof. John King, in the American Dispensatory, says: "This is a very active, powerful and useful remedy, and appears to fulfill a great number of indications. It possesses an undoubted influence over the nervous system. In small doses the appetite and digestion are improved." He continues, "Upon the reproductive organs it exerts a specific influence, promoting the menstrual discharge.

"Its action is slow, but its effects are permanent. It has been used successfully as an antispasmodic in hysteria, epilepsy when due to menstrual failings, periodical convulsions, nervous excitability, and many other spasmodic affections."

Horatio C. Wood, M. D., Professor University of Pennsylvania, says: "Of unquestionable value in chorea (St. Vitus's dance). Promptly cures urticaria (hives). Recommended in rheumatism and chronic bronchitis."

LADY'S SLIPPER ROOT (Cypripedium Pubescenes).

The United States Dispensatory says: "Cyripendium (Lady's Slipper) appears to be a gentle nervous stimulant or antispasmodic. Dr. E. Ives, of New Haven, Conn., commends the remedy in hypochondriasis (melancholy and depression of mind), neuralgia and morbid sensitiveness of the nervous system generally, and especially of the eye."

Edward M. Hale, M. D., Professor in Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago, says: "Useful in hysteria, chorea (St. Vitus's dance), nervous headache, neuralgia and 'fidgetyness.' It is mild, but if used in excess increases the irritability and weakness which it palliated."

BLUE COHOSH ROOT (Caulophyllum Thalictroides).

The American Dispensatory says: "Blue Cohosh is used by Indian squaws, they employing a decoction of the root for two or three weeks previous to labor to facilitate child-birth."

Prof. John King, M. D., says: "Blue Cohosh has enjoyed a well-merited reputation, for when used by delicate women, or those who experience prolonged and painful labors, for several weeks previous to confinement, it gives tone and vigor to all the parts engaged in the accouchement, facilitating its progress, and relieving much suffering." Prof Hale testifies that Blue Cohosh acts as an anti-abortive by relieving the irritation upon which the trouble depends. Dr. King says, "It has been employed to relieve irritation of the reproductive organs dependent on congestion. It controls chronic inflammatory states of the organs and gives tone in cases of debility. In the sexual disorders of the female it is indicated by tenderness and pain in the uterus. In debilitated patients, it has been very successfully used in cases of hysteria to overcome the attack, and to relieve ovarian pain, or irritation when accompanying that disorder. Chronic ovaralgia, leucorrhoea, amenorrhoea (suppressed menstruation) and dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation), are conditions in which it has been most successfully employed. It has an established reputation as a remedy for rheumatism of the uterus, with nervous excitement, for uterine cramps attending menstruation, and for menorrhagia (profuse menstruation)."

UNICORN ROOT (Helonias Dioica).

The American Dispensatory (prepared by Professors King and Scudder), says: "Helonias, or Unicorn root, has been found very beneficial in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and for the removal of worms. It is more especially applicable in indigestion, dyspepsia and mal-assimilation, where the trouble is reflex from, or associated with, wrongs of the female reproductive apparatus. Such digestive disturbances as depend upon uterine and ovarian irritation, or upon lack of uterine activity, in chlorotic anemia (thin, or watery, poor blood), are benefited by it. It is valuable as atony (weakness) of the generative organs." Prof. King says: "Have found this plant possesses a decidedly beneficial influence in cases of sexual lassitude in both sexes, the result of excesses, especially in those instances where there are symptoms of gastric (stomach) derangement with impaired memory, mental apathy, or indifference, and an enfeebled condition of the general system, with weakness or dull pain in the renal, or lumbo-sacral (small of the back) region. In diseases of the reproductive organs of females, and especially of the uterus, it is one of our most valuable agents, acting as a uterine tonic, and gradually removing abnormal conditions, while at the same time it imparts tone and vigor to the reproductive organs. Hence, it is much used in leucorrhoea, amenorrhoea, dysmenorrhoea and to remove the tendency to repeated and successive miscarriages. A particular phase removed by it is the irritability and despondency that often attends uterine troubles. In painful menstruation it has been found especially adapted to those cases in which there is pelvic fullness, a sensation as if the pelvic organs were distended with blood, and the aching, bearing-down organs feel as if they would fall out of the body. Its action here is very decided. It is considered useful by some for the relief of the vomiting of pregnancy. Helonias is a decided tonic to the urinary tract."

Dr. John Fyfe, Editor of the Department of Therapeutics in The Eclectic Review, says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) one of the chief ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription:

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator and always favors a condition which makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system, cannot fail to be of great usefulness and of the utmost importance to the general practitioner of medicine. In Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent."

He continues: "Helonias (Unicorn root)—through its tonic and alterative influence—acts equally well in amenorrhoea (suppressed menstruation) and in menorrhagia (flooding or profuse menstruation). It is especially called for in cases of amenorrhoea which are accompanied by general debility and an atonic (weak) condition of the digestive organs, as it increases the appetite and promotes digestion and assimilation. When there is atony (weakness) of the generative organs and a tendency to miscarriage its tonic influence upon the sexual system will aid much in bringing about a normal condition of the structures involved. In sterility and impotence its curative power is unmistakable, and within a reasonable time it will restore to healthful activity all cases not dependent upon organic wrongs, and in leucorrhoea and in defective menstruation it is a frequently needed remedy."

The following are among the leading indications for Helonias: "Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhoea; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flowing), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhoea, (suppressed menstruation), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and an anaemic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading and predominating ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias.

We invite all those who would like to read more extended extracts from eminent medical authorities treating of ALL the several ingredients entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines, to send for a booklet recently compiled by Dr. Pierce and published by the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N. Y., which will be sent FREE to any one requesting a copy of the same, by postal card or letter. Ask for the little book of extracts compiled by Dr. Pierce.

LARGE CROWD SEES PIRATES PRACTICE

Five Fast Double Plays Made in the Game Between Regulars and the Yanigans.

BOB GANLEY IS THE STAR

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., April 1.—The players who protested yesterday against Sunday practice before the opening of the salary season were influenced by the weather in changing their opinion of Captain Clarke and instructions. The day could not have been nearer perfect if made to order.

The traction company took advantage of the fact that there was no racing at Oakland and that the Jeff Davis lid was down on Hot Springs gambling in sports by placarding cars with the announcement of a free exhibition game at Whittington. The result was a record attendance, the stand and bleachers being completely filled.

The unusually large crowd gave the Yanigans stage fright, apparently, but after they got over the first two or three innings their playing improved. The contest was remarkable for its extremes of good and bad fielding. There were five fast double plays, and if Gibson had taken Beaumont's accurate throw from center in the seventh inning Flaherty would have been retired at the plate and another would have been added to the number of double plays.

Ganley was the star in the most brilliant fielding performance of the afternoon. With Willis on first, he sprinted forward, bent down, and with one hand gathered in a short fly off Clymer's stick, passing it to first in time to get Willis, who had kept on going, under the impression that the drive was good for at least two bases.

Hillebrand clubbed a mountain to rob Beaumont of a long hit in the fourth inning, and Tommy Sheehan gave an exhibition of one-hand stops of drives sent to him with sufficient force to cause a less plucky infielder to sidestep or go down for the count. Clarke had even more pepper than usual and he worked his stentorian voice overtime in an effort to rattle the Yanigans.

The Pirate chief had little to say after being caught off third, but he stood his indignation in the sixth. He led off and was safe on Clymer's excusable muff. The next pair hit safely, crowding the bases, and Wagner was signaled to bunt for a squeeze run. The big German tried to follow instructions, but Leever put on so much steam that when Honus laid the lumber against the sphere it went sailing out over second base. Clymer made a futile attempt to stop it, and when he had fielded it back from the ravine in deep center the bases were cleared and the Carnegie swatter was panting on the bench from his sweat-developing circuit of the sacks.

"He punted a home run," was Clarke's noisy proclamation. The game was a bingfest for the regulars. They practiced "hitting," they hit them where they "ain't" with marked success.

Willis and Leever tried everything they had in stock, but the ball looked big as a balloon to the Regulars at all stages.

Capt. Clymer lost heart, and he showed it so plainly that he had to stand for a great amount of twitting from the opposing club. Capt. Clarke tonight announced the names of the squad who will remain for further work at Hot Springs when the Pirates start on their barnstorming tour next Wednesday. They are Willis, Leever, Phillippe, Lynch, Case, Smith, Peitz, Beaumont and Leach, as the chief wants the regular pitchers to get all the benefit there is in the facilities for conditioning here.

It was also announced that if the weather is too cold the exhibition dates for Terre Haute, Springfield and Decatur will be canceled. President Dreyfus will remain in Hot Springs.

1909 ENGINEERS WIN.

Capture Honors in Michigan Class Meet With Thirty-Eight Points.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., April 1.—(Special.)—The annual interclass indoor track meet was won last night by the 1909 engineers. They scored 38 points and their nearest competitors, the 1908 engineers, made 17. The meet was devoid of sensational features and no records were broken.

Wesley Coe, shot-put champion, did 47 feet 4 inches, which falls short 2½ inches from the Michigan record, established two years ago by Ralph Rose. Coe has tried repeatedly this winter to break Rose's indoor record, but without success. His work tonight was the best he had done. This was Coe's last chance this year to try for the indoor record, but he says he will make a determined showing when the outdoor season opens. Summaries:

Shot Put—First, Coe; second, Graham; third, Embs. Distance—47 feet 4 inches.

Forty Yard Dash—First, Bowman; second, Clark; third, Cotton. Time—:04 4-5.

NAPS OFFER TO BET $2,000.

Will Wager This Sum That They Beat Detroit in American League Race.

CLEVELAND, O., April 1.—(Special.)—Manager Lajoie and his men have just raised a pool of $2,000 to close the mouths of Manager Armour of Detroit and his bunch, who have been making daily statements that decided Cleveland's array is not in the Tiger's class.

There is not the best feeling in the world between these two clubs any way, so at a gathering of the Lajoie platoon at Atlanta, it was decided to announce that if the Detroiters are on the level in their boast, they can show where they stand by calling this $2,000 bet, or any part of it that is wanted.

The bet offered is on the straight proposition that Cleveland beats Detroit in the pennant race.

"If we don't get the decision I'll eat my hat," remarked Larry. "They've been handing it to us about long enough now, so here's a chance at least to show just how far they are out on the limb."

First Place at Stake.

This evening the St. Anthony and the St. Joseph bowling teams of the Diocesan bowling league will meet on the St. Anthony alleys. The outcome of the games will decide first place. In order to capture the cup the home team will have to capture all three games while two games will tie them for first honors.

Harvard will probably send a second eight to the "American Regatta," at Philadelphia, May 26. This will be in addition to the crew winning the class races May 18. There will be no four sent this year as last. This plan is in accord with Capt. Ellery's endeavor to make the crews take more short drills rowing by rowing them more races and something for every one to try for.

WASHINGTON ACCEPTS TERMS OF FIRSTBASEMAN ED MURPHY

STAR PLAYERS IN P. O. M. LEAGUE

JIMMY GANLEAR

Hinton Is to Play Third for Steubenville. Ganlear Is an Old and Popular Outfielder on the Waynesburg Team.

Former Eastern Leaguer to Captain Team in the P. O. M. League—McKim Signs a Second-baseman for Braddock.

The Washington club of the P. O. M. league has accepted the terms of Ed Murphy of Erie, who played first base for the Buffalo Eastern league club last year. Murphy and the Washington directors have been dickering for some time, but it was not until late last week that they reached a definite understanding. Murphy will be field captain of the team, while "Budget" Seamon will be business manager. Murphy, who is a former W. and J. football player, is immensely popular at Washington and the directors gave him about the same salary he received at Buffalo last year. Murphy and Miller, the outfielder, were sold by the Bisons to the Zanesville club, but both balked on the transfer. Murphy had offers from Southern league clubs. He led the first basemen in the Eastern league last year in fielding and he was up among the leaders in hitting.

He is pleased with the outlook at Washington. He thinks he has a good infield with Moffet, Price and McKechnie, but he will try to strengthen the outfield. He will try to secure Miller for one of the outer garden positions. Miller is a fast fielder and a good hitter. He bats left-handed, and he was one of the hardest batters on the independent circuit, while with Zanesville, for the pitchers to pitch to.

Don McKim has signed a second baseman named McIntyre for his Braddock team. McIntyre played with Phillipsburg last year. He comes well recommended. McKim has not decided as yet as to the make-up of his infield, but it is sure that Maye Edmundson will again play third and captain the team. Saudherr will probably be retained for short and there is a probability of Harry Kellar again playing first.

The following contracts have been sent the president of the league: With East Liverpool, Cy Davis, Harry Felix; with Waynesburg, A. C. Swartling, W. H. Minford, Robert Conaway, Nelson Flinn, John V. Moore, Elmer Cannon, John Yeedt, Walter Crum, James Ganley, Benton Montgomery, Walter Cowen, Edward Lynch, Joe Laushlin, Charles Reed, Edward Hydak, Harry Blumling.

Minford, who is signed with Waynesburg, played on the U. of P. team three years. He is an infielder. Harry Felix, whom East Liverpool has signed, pitched for Montreal last year. He has been with the Philadelphia Nationals and Louisville. Pitcher Cy Davis was with Harrisburg last year.

President Travis of the East Liverpool club went to Cincinnati Saturday, and it is presumed he is seeking some material for his team.

The Washington directors will not countenance swearing on the field this year. They had better get a bunch of padlocks if they want none of the blue language on the bench.

Milt. Montgomery is dickering with an outfielder now on a Southern league club. This player in question was in the Tri-State last year. He doesn't like the south, and if he can get his release he will come to Waynesburg.

The Butler fans can be assured of a good team now that Thad Troy has been secured as manager. Troy will play the outfield also.

The Steubenville faithful will see a first-class third baseman in Red Hinton, the former Altoona captain who has been secured by Manager Lee. Hinton was with Wilmington and Chester last year.

Manager Irvin of the Cumberland team is dickering with Howard Mitinger of Wilkinsburg, who is now pitching on the State college team.

PRINCETON GAMES TO BE HELD THIS MONTH

Wisconsin Thinking of Sending a Crew to the Big Eastern Regatta.

Within a few days after the Easter vacation the tenth annual interscholastic games under the auspices of the Princeton Track association will be held at Princeton. The date is April 21. Inasmuch as many of the largest prep and high schools in this part of the country participate in these games, the event has always aroused keen interest.

Last year Mercersburg won the meet and incidentally took away the cup, which had to be captured three times before the winners could claim it as their own. A new cup has been put up for competition by Tracy H. Harris, '86. Sterner restrictions have been placed on the permanent ownership of this trophy, for no school can keep it until that school has won it five times.

The games were begun in 1897 and since that year have been won by Lawrenceville, Berkeley school (twice), Hill school, Mercersburg academy (three times), Dwight school and Lewis institute. In the list of records it is most interesting to note some of the holders who later became famous and some of whom are now in the college world. Several men who have done star work for Penn, Princeton and Yale are on the list. For this reason the games are always a source of interest to college men and it is pretty safe to assert that more than one of the large universities and colleges will have their eyes riveted on many of the young athletes who will perform at Princeton on April 21.

The list of records follows:

100-yards dash, W. Hoganson, Lewis institute, time 10 seconds; 220-yards dash, E. Bensash, Delancey school, 22 3-5 seconds; 440-yards dash, H. E. Manvel, Pingry, 51 3-5 seconds; 880-yards run, H. E. Manvel, Pingry, 1 minute, 59 3-5 seconds; one-mile run, C. F. Magoffin, Mercersburg, and M. Sheppard, Brown Preparatory school, 4 minutes, 42 3-5 seconds; two-mile run, G. S. Trube, Yonkers, 10 minutes, 31 4-5 seconds; 120-yards hurdles, F. S. Amsler, Mercersburg, 16 2-5 seconds; 220-yards hurdles, J. B. Thomas, Blake school, and R. G. Leavitt, Mercersburg, 26 seconds; running high jump, F. S. Soraker, Berkeley, 6 feet 2½ inches; running broad jump, F. F. Risley, Mercersburg, 22 feet; pole vault, S. Williams, Lewis institute, 11 feet; 12-pound shot, J. R. De Witt, Lawrenceville, 48 feet 4 inches; 12-pound hammer, J. R. De Witt, Lawrenceville, 181 feet, 5 inches; discus, J. R. De Witt, Lawrenceville, 111 feet 7 inches.

For the first time in three seasons a Michigan team is scheduled to meet an eastern college, Amherst has booked a baseball game, to be played at Ann Arbor May 23, and Michigan fans will thus have an opportunity to size up the respective merits of eastern and western teams.

Neil Patterson, crack high jumper of the Detroit University school, will accompany the Michigan track team to the Philadelphia meet this year. He will enter the high jump. He has a mark of 6 feet 3 inches, which beats the Michigan mark in this event by three inches. Patterson states that he will enter Michigan next year.

New York university very unexpectedly won the intercollegiate gymnastic championship, with a score of 18 1-3 points.

Princeton was second, with 11 points; Yale third, with 10 1-2 points; Harvard fourth, with 9 1-3 points, and Columbia fifth, with 5 points. This is the first time in the eight years since the intercollegiate contests were established that New York university has won. Columbia won the tournament last year.

The Wisconsin crew will probably be sent east again this year to take part in the interscholastic race at Poughkeepsie-on-the Hudson. The prospects for a good crew are said to be such that it would be a misfortune if Wisconsin were not again represented in the great regatta. The plan is to raise money by subscription. It is feared that from $2,500 to $3,000 will be necessary to carry the crew east and to keep things going until that time.

COUNTRY CLUB WILL TRY FOR S. S. LESSLIE TROPHY

The Class for Foxhound Packs Will Be Spectacular Event of the Dog Show.

More than usual local interest will be centered in the foxhound competition at the coming bench show of the Duquesne Kennel club, which opens its doors at Duquesne garden Wednesday morning and continues for the rest of the week. The Seavor S. Lesslie, Jr., trophy in the foxhound pack class is such a valuable one that New York and Massachusetts will do their best to take it away from Pennsylvania. It will be awarded after one competition, as it is then won outright.

The Country club will make a bold bid with a pack of four couples. This pack will carry the hopes of Pittsburghers, as it is the only local pack entered, Harkaway Hunt not entering.

Massachusetts will be represented by the Middlesex pack, A. Henry Higginson, master of foxhounds. New York and New Jersey will have the Monmouth county pack to try for the honors. The master of the latter pack is P. F. Collier, who is master also of the Meadowbrook hounds. Mr. Collier is one of the famous masters in this country. The meeting of this class in the ring will really be the spectacular event of the coming show and will attract huntsmen generally.

"DOC" RAMSEY TO PLAY ON PITTSBURGH COLLEGE

Kerr Price's successor at shortstop on the Pittsburgh Collegians' nine this summer will be "Doc" Ramsey of Washington and Jefferson. Price has played the position ever since the club was organized four years ago, but he will play professional ball this season at Washington. Ramsay played third base at Westminster college three years ago, but he entered W. and J. last year and played short on that team. He is fast and a good thrower.

Alex. McCracken, captain of the Intercholastics and Collegians, is already sizing up the material at the different schools and colleges, and he predicts the team will be as fast as last year. The manager of the Atlantic City club wanted the Collegians to play there July 4, but the date was declined, as Harry Pfeiffer had booked the Collegians for the day at Beaver Falls. Pfeiffer caught on the Collegians last year, but he has taken charge of the Athletics at Beaver Falls for this season.

UNIONTOWN NOW WANTS IN LEAGUE

Fayette County People Raise Money and Desire Old Place in the P. O. M.

TOWNPEOPLE ARE INTERESTED

Uniontown is to have a baseball team after all, and an effort will be made to secure readmittance into the P. O. M. league from which organization it left last week. Certain parties at Uniontown got in communication with the officials of the Waynesburg team yesterday and the assurance was given that sufficient money will be subscribed to tide the club through the season.

It was claimed that the management of the team withdrew from the league did so without consulting all the parties interested in the club, and that this act did not meet with the approval of the townspeople, who now want a club more than ever.

The league will meet Wednesday afternoon at the Hotel Henry and Uniontown will have representatives present with a $400 check.

FITZGERALD WINS FROM HARRY LEWIS

PHILADELPHIA, PA., April 1.—(Special.)—Willie Fitzgerald demonstrated last night in his fight in the wind-up at the National Athletic club with Harry Lewis that he is worthy of a trial to wrest the title of champion from Battling Nelson. Fitzgerald arrived only Thursday last from a successful pugilistic campaign in California, and engaged in the contest with Lewis with a match with Jimmy Gardner to the winner as the prize. Fitzgerald won by a big margin. The latter was in excellent condition. He took matters in hand from the moment the first gong sounded, and it was soon plain to be seen that there would be no loafing if Fitzgerald could prevent it. Lewis did no show much love for punishment and resorted to holding and covering up early in the go.

Thousands Turn Out in Brilliant Spring Costumes to Mark Arrival of Spring.

WEATHER IS OF IDEAL SORT

Poems on nature, patent medicine advertisements and swelling rivers are inevitable, and frequently premature, harbingers of coming spring; but there is an indefinable element in the atmosphere of Pittsburgh and vicinity that at the proper time each year brings forth the most worthy aand undoubted evidence that the season of love is approaching. This manifestation of the preparation for verdant fields, traction parks and Soda water is seen on the streets, and it is the first spring parade of the populace. And that parade was witnessed yesterday afternoon.

The air was almost balmy in mildness, bearing just enough coolness to make ing walking a most delightful recreation. The pavements were clean and dry, the sun was kindly and warm, and the result was a most pretty Lenten display of new costumes. The downtown streets were an animated picture of beauty. It was a picture to crown the weeks of planning and effort of modiste, milliner and haberdasher, and to plant pride and contentment in the bosoms of those who paid for the various pieces of personal adornment. Seen in ensemble, it was worth observing.

From indications on every hand yesterday afternoon, Pittsburgh and vicinity is going to have a glorious Easter display of millinery, gowns, suits and footwear. From early yesterday afternoon until dusk hundreds strolled through the downtown thoroughfares, principally up Fifth avenue, Smithfield and Wood streets, Liberty avenue and Sixth street, looking at the sidewalk parade and showing off their own finery.

In most of the stores about the business section of the city the big display windows were repositories for such collections of pretty things as would delight the heart of any woman. That line of criticism unknown to men was indulged in, and comparisons of which only women have any knowledge were made indiscriminately.

An argument that might be used in favor of Greater Pittsburgh is the impartiality shown by these Sunday afternoon crowds that enliven the downtown streets. Completing the circut in Pittsburgh most of the men and maidens crossed the broad Sixth street bridge and coursed slowly through Allegheny. Federal street was a veritable Broadway all afternoon, and Ohio street, leading to the North Side parks, was bright with many brilliant colors. The smooth walks in the parks were crowded, and the swans and geese in the lakes got any amount of attention from the children.

The nice weather was enjoyed not only by pedestrians desirous of seeing and being seen, for hundreds of automobiles and horse-drawn vehicles were out. Many of the big tonneaus had been decapitated and in this unhooded condition allowed their occupants unlimited vision and unbounded draughts of invigorating fresh air. Altogether it was a bright and satisfactory day, not observed in strictly Puritan fashion, but evidently enjoyed by the thousands who were out.

Local.

Mayor-elect Guthrie made public the names of those whom he will appoint to the most important places in his cabinet. The Civic party had an exciting time owing to the efforts of friends of Dr. C. C. Wylie to get for him an office. School directors, in answering Shaler township petitioners, claimed it was not necessary to build a school house to accommodate seven scholars. Director Clark failed to get a majority of select or common councils at either of two caucuses which he called to indorse Burns and McKelvey. Detective Berry denied charges in an attempt to deprive him of his license. Pittsburgh Coal Company will sign new miners' scale today, but independent operators will close down; local convention threatened to cause general shutdown. A negro who used imported perfume in his bath was arrested with others on suspicion of robbing a store. Two aged sisters died on the same day from grief over the death of a third. Robert Pitcairn originated and used first duplicate telegraph order in train dispatching. Successful season of grand opera was brought to a close. Director Bigelow made a profit of $25,000 on the eve of his retirement from office.

Domestic.

Senator Foraker called attention to the fact that in 1904 President Roosevelt recommended court review of the interstate commission's decisions on railroad rates, and Secretary Taft, speaking for the President in 1905, twice made similar declarations. President Roosevelt submitted, and several senators agreed to support, an amendment to the railroad rate bill giving the court power to review findings of the interstate commerce commission, but not to change rates. Greensburg attorney shot his wife and daughter and then demanded that he be hanged at once. John W. Gates left Birmingham and southern gamblers failed to get sight of his money. New York girl, after being spanked by her mother, left home and returned with a husband.

Foreign.

Algeciras delegates agreed on all points in the Moroccan dispute, and France and Germany accepted the terms. Mrs. Bellamy Storer denied she had abused letter written her by Mr. Roosevelt and made public its contents.

Sports.

Pittsburgh baseball team will carry only three catchers, but will hold on to all utility men. Local bowlers brought back $62 as prizes from the national tournament at Louisville. Followers of racing saw some fine events at Bennings. All arrangements have been completed for the Duquesne Kennel club's show. Automobile news of the week.

Financial.

New York stocks closed active and higher under the lead of the United States Steels. Pittsburgh Coal preferred made another strong rally on the local board. Reports of favorable weather in the wheat districts caused the Chicago market to weaken considerably.

WANTED—A GOSPEL OF HOPE.

The Rev. Thomas Clayton Says the World Needs a Message, Such as Christianity Brings.

"Wanted—A Gospel of Hope" was the subject of the sermon preached last evening at Carnegie hall, Allegheny, by the Rev. Thomas Clayton, pastor of the Second Unitarian church. He said in part:

The world needs a message of hope and cheer, for life is full of depressing experiences. You may read it in the faces you meet everywhere. Many are sad, others serious and most wear a strained look. It is a splendid mission to produce a smile in place of a cloud. Trouble and some lives seem riveted together, and such may well ask what use it is to struggle? Because to live, to strive and succeed in spite of adversity is to become great and noble; and so to develop the divine in man. Say to thyself, "Hope thou in God, my soul, for I shall yet praise Him for the help of His countenance." Liberal Christianity knows only a gospel of hope for man in any and every experience. In life or death, in joy or sorrow, in sin or suffering. It teaches all men to have perfect trust in the love of God, which is the greatest reality in the universe.

COAL GOING SOUTH.

Three Big Tows Are Started from the Local Harbor.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company will start several big tows of coal down the Ohio this morning for southern ports. The W. W. O'Neil will take 20 boats and 3 barges, the Valiant 12 boats and 3 barges, and the Jim Wood 17 boats. All are bound for Cincinnati. Several other large consignments will leave the local harbor within the next few days.

TELLS BY THEIR SLEEP

"I can tell by my little ones' sleep when a cold is coming on" said a mother when speaking of the advance symptoms of colds in children. "They toss about, are restless, their breathing is heavy and there are symptoms of night sweats. The next morning I start with Scott's Emulsion. The chances are that in a day or two they are all over it. Their rest is again peaceful and the breathing normal."

Here's a suggestion for all mothers. Scott's Emulsion always has been almost magical in its action when used as the ounce of prevention. Nothing seems to overcome child weakness quite so effectively and quickly as Scott's Emulsion.

Father Gapon Demands a Trial.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 1.—Father Gapon, in a letter to the procurator, says he is only living in St. Petersburg by tolerance and demands to be put on trial in orded to defend his honor and legalize his status, or if guilty, to be condemned.
